AVIATOR AND HIS PARTY ARE KILLED

the shock caused by the accidental death of Chas Stewart Rolls the English aviator when it learned that Erbsloch had been added to the long list of competent men who had lost their lives while ballooning

BODY CRUSHED.

The body of Erbsloch would not have been recognized had it been found alone. The hands of all five men were tightly clutched, as though they had held desperately to the car as it shot downward. Their shoes were torn from their feet.

A group of peasants who left their work in the fields and ran to the scene as the crippled balloon struck the earth say they heard a sigh from one of the men, but no other sign of life.

The ascent was made at 9:15 o'clock at which time there was scarcely a breath of air stirring. It had been planned to take a long trip and the weather conditions gave promise of a delightful excursion.

CRAFT ROSE EASILY

When the command to let go was given the great craft rose gently and moved rapidly to the westward. It soon disappeared on the horizon and a half hour later entered a bank of fog that hung over the village of Optaden.

For a time the Erbsloch was lost to view. Later it emerged from the fog and the peasants below were startled by a report like that of a cannon and saw the shapeless mass come shooting down from the clouds.

Up to ten days ago the roll of aviators killed since September 17, 1908, stood at ten. On July 3 Chas Wachter fell to his death at Rheims, France. Yesterday the English sportsman, Chas Stewart Rolls, died beneath the wreck ago of his aeroplane.

Noted Aeronaut

Oscar Erbsloch had made many daring and successful balloon flights. In the St. Louis aerial race when he won the international cup which had been taken the year before by Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm at Paris, he covered a distance of 876 miles. Starting at St. Louis he landed at Ashbury Park, N. J., two miles further from the point of ascent than his nearest competitor, M. Leblanc of France who came down at Herbertsville, N. J.

Erbsloch on that occasion piloted the balloon Pommern. In February, 1909, Erbsloch made a remarkable balloon trip across the Alps. His balloon the Berlin remained in the air for thirty hours, showing a maximum altitude of about 18,000 feet.

An average temperature of about 12 degree below zero was experienced.

INSURANCE FRAUD IS UNEARTHED IN COURT

Gordon Bennington Is Found Guilty of Defrauding Woman of Policy.

DIVIDED HIS PROCEEDS WITH AN ACCOMPLICE

Embezzlement Netted Superintendent Sum of $3.25 for Premium Swindling.

By misrepresenting the West Coast Insurance Company of which he was superintendent of agents Gordon Bennington defrauded Mrs. Joseph Mendes of 1563 Third street of the insurance money owing her upon a policy on her little boy's life. He was found guilty of misdemeanor embezzlement by the jury after the jurymen had been out three minutes in Judge Mortimer Smith's court late yesterday afternoon.

The case discloses systematic petty thieving on the part of the agent in the handling of his accounts with the patrons of the insurance company. Mrs. Mendes had three children with small policies for each. When her son died $12.50 was paid over to Bennington by the company to meet the claim.

HOW SWINDLE WAS WORKED

Bennington, accompanied by A. W. Dawson, his assistant, visited the mother and informed her that she had not held the policy long enough to be entitled to any money, but that he would give her credit on the two other policies for payments in advance to the amount of $6.25. He showed her the accounts and the woman who did not know anything of the methods of insurance accepted his word and that of Dawson. For his part in the transaction Dawson was given $3. Bennington retaining $3.25 as the reward for his elaborate swindle. Dawson testified against Bennington at the trial, and while Bennington denied almost every statement the evidence was piled up against him and the verdict of guilty returned without delay.

Bennington is out on $200 bail. He will be sentenced tomorrow morning by Judge Smith. He was discharged by the company upon the discovery of the embezzlement. In collecting the evidence the testimony of H. Darovich was brought before the court. Attempt to work a similar deal upon him the evidence being of a contemptible nature.

DEL FUNGO-GIERA SEEKS FREEDOM

Accused Swindler Declares the Testimony at Preliminary Was Insufficient.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—On the ground that the testimony given at his preliminary hearing in police court was not sufficient to hold him for trial in the Superior Court, P. I. Del Fungo-Giera applied this morning to Superior Judge Conley for a writ of habeas corpus, ordering his discharge from custody. The writ was argued the entire morning and taken under advisement by the court.

Del Fungo-Giera is charged with handling Mr. and Mrs. Harold Andreason of Shasta county out of a ranch valued at $3000 in a transaction whereby he traded alleged worthless bonds for the property.

Del Fungo-Giera is also implicated in alleged shady deals in real estate transactions in Alameda county and there is a criminal case pending against him and Attorney J. K. Smith of Oakland at San Rafael growing out of an alleged attempt to defraud Mrs. Georgiana De Rohan Baroness of Berkeley out of real estate. In a recent trial at San Rafael before Superior Judge Jennon Mrs. Baronidis obtained a judgment of $10,000 against Del Fungo-Giera and Attorney Smith.

It appears from the evidence in the Andreason case that Del Fungo-Giera, Smith and several other parties were in a conspiracy to purchase property in the bay regions with worthless foreign stock and all of the suits thus far instituted have brought out a similar plan to get hold of property without any money consideration.

SPEED QUESTION BETWEEN OFFICERS

Police Sergeant and Sheriff's Man Rivals in Serving Legal Papers.

ALAMEDA, July 13.—Sergeant Albert Kamp of the local police force and Constable John Kihn threaten a little conflict with one another over the serving of legal papers against three bill posting firms for the non-payment of license. Kihn expected to serve the papers on the firm and had them nestling in his pocket when the police sergeant interposed that the papers be served by the sheriff's office to insure speedy action.

Kihn takes exception to the fact that the sheriff's office is a speedier bunch of workers than the Alameda constable. In an interview this morning with Kamp Kihn let him what he thought about him and said the sheriff's office would charge a fee for each trip made to levy against the property of the bill posting firms whereas he would have made as many trips as necessary for one fee.

He hints that this fee will be exceptionally large if Kamp goes through the expected procedure by way of the sheriff's office.

WOMEN ARE ORDERED TO ANSWER IN COURT

Oaklander Left Will, Hoping to Spare Members of Family any Pain.

expressed in the loving spirit with which they are bestowed.

My son Will will remember the money loaned him while he was in Centerville also moneys advanced to him for the house in San Francisco. I should not mention this now, but I feel that he has not always given me the affectionate consideration due to a mother—nor the sympathy and assistance he should and could have given me in my efforts to educate Clothe and clothe for his daughter Elsie, but with the assurance that I love him still I give him one share of my stock in Oakland Bank of Savings and request that two shares of my bank stock that should have been his be given to my dear granddaughter Elsie to assist her in any emergency that may arise in the completion of her education and fitting herself for a useful and successful life work in some branch that promises the greatest success.

THREE SHARES GIVEN.

For my son Charles (the four words preceding this are in pencil a number of other words being obliterated by pencil marks) I have also signed his note in the Oakland Bank of Savings for $700 give him three shares of my stock present value about five hundred dollars) provided he has paid this indebtedness in full otherwise I wish the bank to hold toward payment of that debt (duly giving him credit for the same) and making such other arrangements with him for making further and full payment as seems to them wisest and best.

To my son Henry I give three shares of my bank stock (present value about two hundred dollars). I wish him to consider this a nest egg carefully adding to it as fast as possible toward making for himself and his family a permanent home.

To my granddaughter Marion I give the strip of land adjoining the property of her father and extension of a lot owned by me on Adeline street.

TO DRAW INTEREST

I wish my daughters to give Lester son of Charles F. Cole and Gertrude daughter of William R. Cole the sum of $50 each to remain in the bank drawing interest until they shall each reach the age of 21 years.

The following paragraph is crossed out with pencil marks.

I wish one share or enough of my bank stock or money in bank be transferred to my daughter Lily to pay the indebtedness of money borrowed from her several years ago, $170. All the rest of my stock in the Oakland Bank of Savings I give to my daughters share and share alike.

Will or letter then resumes.

The lots in San Francisco I have divided between my children as they will see by my codicil gift but I greatly desire that no forced sale be made to secure this division but to let them remain until by the good judgment of competent advisors and with consent of my daughters they can be sold to the best interests of all concerned.

TRINKETS BEQUEATHED.

Various trinkets are given to grandchildren to pass down to the oldest in female succession and other articles are given to the children disposal of many books left to the judgment of the daughters.

This portion of the will as given above is dated January 9, 1900, the rest of it being without date but that part relating to the disposition of trinkets is in pencil. There are many changes both in ink and pencil showing that Mrs. Cole read it over many times. Most of the changes are of a nature suggesting an effort to relieve the residue of any harshness or cause for heartaches.

Dated December, 1900, written in pencil on a piece of letter paper is an addition as follows:

Since writing the above wishes circumstances have so greatly changed and values in property so much increased it is with the greatest gratification that I feel justified in giving a larger sum to my three sons.

My daughters I think will be comfortably provided for by the deeds of gift of the two pieces of property 572 and 574 Twelfth street, Oakland, and 709 College avenue, Berkeley. If these two pieces of property at a conservative valuation can be appraised at $80,000 or upward so that each daughter will have at least $40,000 in her own right to use for her own support and comfort I shall feel that at least they can live in comfort unless some unforseen misfortune befall them.

I have always received one lot of Adeline street, feeling that some day the Twelfth street house must be moved to make way for business. It would be my wish when it is possible in the judgment of their advisors for my daughters to move that house and put it in repair and give it to their brothers share and share alike. This is not to be done until the income from their own property gives them at least $900 a month net. I write this so that the transfer may not be forced or my daughters be embarrassed in providing for their own necessities.

At present the property does not make it possible or I would make it a positive gift to them. (In a circle appears to be the letters W. C. & H.) Put it would add greatly to my happiness if I knew it would be possible in the future when I know my daughters will gladly do it for them.

"Your loving mother,

MARY P. COLE"

Arizona Trade Unions Refuse Labor Support

WASHINGTON, July 13.—"It is a mistake to subordinate the constitution of Arizona to a party. The primary thing is the constitution," said President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor today. Mr. Gompers was discussing the action yesterday of representatives of trade unions of Arizona who after refusing to pledge support to candidates of any part who would not subscribe to the principles of organized labor created the Union Labor party of Arizona, which will support candidates for election to the constitutional convention.

"I am more concerned," Mr. Gompers continued, "with the people of Arizona adopting a progressive constitution as the people of Oklahoma did than with the creation of a new party or the support of any existing party."

AN INVITAITON TO WOMEN.

The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., cordially invite any woman interested to call at their laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and see for herself the care which is taken with the vast correspondence received from the women of this country. No letter or testimonial has ever been made public without the written wish or consent of the writer. No confidence has ever been violated and never in their history have they sold or disposed of any of their letters from women. It is for these reasons that thousands of suffering American women every year feel free to write Mrs. Pinkham for her valuable advice, which is always given free of charge.

GIVES UP COIN AT POINT OF KNIFE

Visitor Tells Weird Story of a Night Attack by Two Unknown Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Ben Colborn a visitor in the city from Uplands stopping at the Grand Hotel, reported to the police this morning that he was robbed of $60 on the water front by two strangers last night. He said he was walking up and down in front of the ferry building when a man approached him and invited him to take a stroll down the street.

They went as far as the coal bunkers at the foot of Folsom street and there Colborn said another stranger joined them. The two men drew him under the bunkers and then one of them displaying a knife said: "If you make any noise I will cut you into bits and throw you into the bay. Just hand over what money you have and everything will be all right."

Whereupon Colborn handed over all the coin he had.

Government Scents Forgery Case in Attempt to Sell Big Amount of Paper.

MONTREAL, July 13.—United States Labrador postage stamps with a face value of $400,000 were this morning seized by the representatives of the federal government here on the suspicion that they were forgeries. The stamps are in 25 cent, 50 cent and $1 denominations.

They were found in the possession of a pawnbroker who was offering them for sale. He claimed he found them in a valise which he purchased at an auction of unclaimed property at a local railroad station.

DISTINGUISHED CHEMISTS OPEN 42D CONVENTION

Many Papers Read and Discussed by Savants; Members Express Surprise in Outcome of Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—With a large attendance of delegates, most of whom passed through a railroad wreck yesterday, the forty-second annual convention of the American Chemical Society, began its sessions today.

An address of welcome by Arthur Lachman of the local branch of the society was responded to by Professor W. D. Bancroft of Cornell University, president of the national organization. Positive Photographs was the subject of a paper by Professor Bancroft which was illustrated with lantern slides and attracted much attention.

Dr. W. F. Hilderbrand of the Geological Survey read a paper on Chemistry in the Bureau of Standards and Edward C. Franklin, in charge of the department of chemistry in Stanford University, explained the use of liquid ammonia as a solvent and the ammonia system of acids, bases and salts.

The use of sodium benzoate as a preservative of food was discussed by H. D. Barnard, official chemist of Indianapolis.

An early adjournment was taken to permit the delegates to take an excursion.

This evening the women of the convention will attend a theater party while the men will gather at a smoker.

UP TAMALPAIS.

Tomorrow afternoon will see the members off to Mount Tamalpais and the Muir Woods. On Friday the Agricultural and Food, Industrial Physical and Inorganic Divisions will meet at the University of California. At noon they will visit the plant of the Selby Smelting and Lead Company and in the afternoon a steamer will give them a trip around the bay. At night a trip to Chinatown is scheduled.

Division meetings will consume most of Saturday morning. In the afternoon the members will visit Golden Gate Park, the Twin Peaks, Cliff, and the Presidio in automobiles and at night there will be a subscription dinner at the St. Francis and theater party for the ladies.

An excursion will be made on Sunday to the wine colony at Asti. The local convention will wind up on Monday with a water trip to Sacramento, return from which is planned by rail. Following this the Puget Sound section will take the members in hand.

4000 MEMBERS

The society has about 4000 members of whom nearly all reside in the United States. A. N. Clark of Ontario is reported to be the only one in attendance from Canada. It is expected that over 200 chemists from all parts of the country will file their credentials today. In addition to those who traveled on the special train that was wrecked yesterday many delegates have come on regular trains from various directions and others are to arrive today. A considerable number of the delegates are accompanied by their wives and other members of their families.

All of those in yesterday's railroad accident at Metz were reported today as getting along nicely. None were so seriously hurt as at first was believed. Mrs. Laura Muskoub of Beach City, Ohio, whose feet and limbs were badly burned, is resting easily and soon will be able to walk. Most of the others show little evidence of their painful experience.

Chemists Expected Harvest of Death In Soledad Wreck

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—All the members of the chemists party who were on the wrecked special yesterday and who were interviewed expressed surprise that so few were hurt. According to their statements the train was traveling very fast around the curves and in their opinion this was contributory to the disaster. The death of the engineer and fireman cast a gloom upon the party but they were thankful that none of their number were injured.

All unite in praising the presence of mind and bravery of Brakeman McClary who although severely injured ran to Metz to flag approaching trains and to give the news of the accident. The negro porters and the remainder of the train crew acted in a heroic manner and elicited the admiration of the passengers.

VISIT STANFORD

The special carrying the part that had been in the wreck arrived at San Jose at 3 o'clock. They were taken at once to the Hotel Vendome where luncheon was served. A few members of the party made the trip by electric train to Palo Alto where they joined the others who left San Jose for San Francisco at 4:15 o'clock.

Mrs. McClary, wife of Brakeman McClary when seen at her home 1750 Steiner street was in entire ignorance of the accident which had befallen her husband. When told that he had been hurt in a wreck her first question was as to the extent of his injuries and when told that they were slight consisting only of a bruised hand according to the reports furnished to Assistant Superintendent Anthony she expressed her thankfulness.

SHE IS THANKFUL

"My husband has only been with the railroad company for eleven months," said Mrs. McClary. "I knew that something must have happened when I did not return this morning and I am thankful that it is no worse."

The death of Leroy A. Dixon the engineer of the wrecked train was particularly tragic as only a year ago he was married. When the news first reached San Francisco friends carried the news to the young widow at her home at 77 Liberty street and broke it to her as gently as possible.

She stood the dreadful shock with wonderful fortitude and the little group of intimates who clustered round her to proffer all they could of silent and loving sympathy were struck by the control of the woman whose terrible grief showed itself only by a terse and unnatural calm.

ENGINEER BLAMED

Blame of the wreck is placed by the company's officials upon the engineer who met his death on the engine. An official investigation is being made to determine if possible whether or not he was asleep when the locomotive jumped from the tracks.

Positive assertions were made yesterday by officials in the office of General Superintendent Davis of the Southern Pacific that Engineer Dixon was running his train at the point where the accident occurred at a high rate of speed, specifically prohibited by the rules governing the operation of trains. Officials assert that he was prohibited from exceeding a speed of twenty five miles per hour at the point where the accident occurred whereas he was going at a speed of at least fifty miles per hour when the engine left the rails.

Murder Scenes Worse Than Fight Pictures

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., July 13.—When a petition was received by the city council asking that the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures be prohibited here Councilman Frank Gerger took a stand against the petition.

The newspapers broadcast over the country described every blow of the fight and everything else and everybody read every line about it but there is a kick about showing the moving pictures. Right now in the moving picture shows they picture murders and other stuff that is worse than the fight.

Action on the petition was deferred.

It is an auspicious season for the patrons of music in the bay cities At a heavy cost to the management of Idora Park, Alexander Bevani secured and organized in New York City a company consisting of some of the best and most representative grand opera singers in America today and has brought them to this city where Sunday they will open a season of probably ten weeks of Italian opera It is an auspicious time because upon the success or failure of the season depends whether or not the Pacific coast shall have a regularly organized grand opera company which will tour its cities and bring the best music within the reach of all

SUCCESS IS EXPECTED.

Much depends upon the initial engagement of the company in this city Music lovers of the bay cities have long felt the want of such an organization as the one which will open its season here Sunday and those managing the music fest feel confident that they have not gone astray in feeling the pulse of the theater going public in their present venture Several years before the fire Tetrazzini in an engagement at the Tivoli theater in San Francisco began a similar season of grand opera at popular prices Then for the first time possibly in the history of the bay cities the public fully appreciated the value of music at such terms In the years which have intervened and with the development and growth of the numbers of opera devotees it is thought that the communities in this vicinity will appreciate more than ever the value of a good opera troupe as a permanent asset

BEVANI IS CONFIDENT

Alexander Bevani who has spent the last three months in New York City gathering his stars and organizing them for the engagement which is to open here expressed his fullest confidence in gaining the intelligent support of the public "From my knowledge of the people gained on former visits to the coast I know that they will lend all of their endeavors in the present undertaking in view of the fact that it is only an experiment and should it prove a successful one visits from the company will become an annual event" said Bevani "I myself have been associated with Italian grand opera for twenty years and in that time I have been connected with some of the greatest singers in the world and I've sung grand opera in four languages, but I would not spend ten cents in the production of Italian opera in the East It has been proved by the failure of so many laudable attempts that the theater-going public will only support grand opera of the first-class type and not grand opera which is what the name signifies Opera singers have long since learned that in the East the people have little real love for operatic music for the sake of the music itself

WESTERNERS ARE MUSICAL

"However from my observations on former visits out here I believe that the people of the Pacific coast will go to hear grand opera when it is well sung and capably staged for the simple reason that they are musical In this present undertaking I hope to ascertain whether or not this belief is well founded It must be remembered that the prices charged for the present engagement are modest in an innovation in grand opera of this class, and I don't believe that any of the singers that I have with me have ever before been heard for double the prices charged at this present time"

The troupe which Bevani has brought to this city including the well equipped orchestra numbers fifty people among whom are some of the most popular and best known Italian opera singers on two continents Eugenio Battain, the principal tenor of the company, was secured for the present engagement with difficulty as at the time Bevani was in the East collecting his artists the tenor was filling an important engagement and his release was only obtained after a persistent effort on the part of the singer-manager Many of Battain's compatriots from Italy who are on the coast will doubtless be reminded in him of the famous Tamagno

INITIAL VISIT TO WEST.

This is his initial visit to the West, as he is only a recent recruit to the Italian opera singers on this continent, where he has been filling an engagement lately with the Academy of Music According to report Battain combines those two virtues which are so essential to success in operatic singing, a voice of dramatic quality and the qualities of a finished actor. Battain's favorite roles are Canio in Pagliacci and Radames in Aida

Regina Vicarino soprano, who will appear in the matinee production Sunday of Faust in the role of Marguerite is one of the young prima donnas who has had a brilliant success in the Eastern metropolis During her student years she was associated with the celebrated Oscar Saenger and later going to Italy she studied under Maestro Lombardi in Florence During these years she was the recipient of many offers for church and concert work but felt for a time to put these aside for the sake of a thorough rounding out of her training

SANG AT HAMMERSTEIN'S.

Last season when Oscar Hammerstein's head he on one occasion heard one began negotiations to engage her for his Manhattan Opera Company During this engagement she sang at Hammerstein's theaters in New York and Philadelphia in the role of Nedda in "Pagliacci" and Marguerite in "Faust" She has a phenomenal range of voice and will be found to particular advantage in her favorite role of Gilda in "Rigoletto" during the two weeks of the season Idora

Gilberta Francini soprano and prima donna and wife of Pietro Francini musical director of the company is a graceful and talented daughter of sunny Italy She is tall and remarkably handsome Her voice is of great coloratura soprano and it is said that she can touch a high F sharp better than most sopranos can touch the key Possessed of a fine stage presence and decidedly magnetic Miss Francini has a very large repertoire of Italian opera both ancient and modern and she will be an important factor in the present engagement It will be a great treat to hear the two duets between Madame Francini and Signor Battain

SANG WITH CARUSO

Umberto Sacchetti tenor played corresponding parts at the Metropolitan opera house in New York in the last season sharing the leading tenor parts with Caruso and Bonci This was his first appearance in America and the success which marked his entrance in the opera of this country is a favorable omen of the successes which will crown his endeavors as he grows in his acquaintance on this side of the waters His career in Italy previous to coming here was not his successful where he was a popular figure in all of the leading Italian theatres At the time of the recent earthquake at Messina Sicily Sacchetti was filling a leading part in an engagement there and he was one of the three operatic stars who escaped with their lives The stock which he suffered at the time of the disaster and the privations suffered following the catastrophe when he wandered for days about the streets without food or shelter were feared might permanently injure his voice However after a few months leave from his work he was thoroughly restored to his former vigor and was able to perform his work with greater energy than before

OTHERS IN COMPANY.

Other members of the company who will be heard here are Pietro Cimpini, baritone Mlle de Dreux contralto Achille Alberti, baritone Estelle de Vivier contralto Estelle Burgess soprano Joseph Florian basso and Alexander Bevani, who is managing the present enterprise

It is the intention to make Faust the feature of all of next week starting with a matinee performance Sunday and it is thought that Rigoletto will be the attraction for the following week The Idora Park management has the company booked for a four weeks' engagement, with the option of extending it to ten weeks if the business warrants on the part of the directors to do so

THOUSANDS TO BE SPENT ON 'KIDS' OF OAKLAND

Mrs. Cora E. Jones Returns From East With Ideas and Plans for Playgrounds.

OUTDOOR GYMNASIUM TO BE GREAT FEATURE

Swimming Pools and Instruction for Youths to Be Had in City Parks.

With the return of Mrs Cora E Jones of the Playground Commission from the National Playground Congress in Rochester N Y the commission has commenced work on comprehensive plans for the improvement of the local children's recreation grounds In the scheme of improvement is included an outdoor gymnasium for De Fremery park, the placing in commission of extensive lay-up natatoriums at Independence square, and the construction there of large open air swimming pools and the installation of new equipment at the other playgrounds and gardens of the boys and girls

The plans for the improvements are being suggested by the commission and whipped into shape by George W Dickie superintendent of the playgrounds

THOUSANDS SPENT.

It is estimated that the scheme of improvement proposed will place Oakland in the forefront among cities which are caring for the welfare of the coming citizens Thousands of dollars will be spent and the best labors and energies of experts in the work of fitting the children to be healthy may to become strong and efficient workers will be devoted to the cause

Two of the improvements planned which have aroused the greatest interest are the outdoor gymnasium at De Fremery park and the swimming pools for Independence square Independence square is set down in the playground report and will be known from now on as San Antonio park The park is a Sixth and Seventh avenue and Fifth to Eighth street, and comprises four blocks of land

SWIMMING POOLS

The plans for the swimming pools have not as yet assumed definite form but the commission has asked for plans for the natatoriums It will be unlike any swimming pool around the bay as it will be an open air affair The lesion will be arranged for the small boy as well as the larger boy and considerable apparatus is to be installed in connection with the swimming tanks

The Playground commission is determined that the swimming pools shall be above reproach so far as sanitary conditions are concerned and it is announced that provision will be made to have the water changed daily A swimming instructor will be added to the corps of assistants at the park and one of the main features of the benefits to be derived will be the teaching of the children to play games such as water polo in the pool

SWIMMING IMPORTANT

The object of providing a municipal swimming pool is not only that of adding to the playground equipment a new form of amusement and exercise lectures Superintendent Dickie This object will be attained to a high degree by the natatorium, as swimming is recognized as one of the cleanest and most excellent forms of athletic effort bringing into play as it does every muscle in the body and giving the child exercise in breathing and lung action obtained in no other manner

But a no less important object of no less importance is that of teaching the children to swim as a means of safety in time of accident Hundreds of deaths are caused by ignorance of the art of swimming It is thought that the playtime of water games will be especially useful in giving the boys and girls confidence when in the water, with the result that the victim of a wreck on the water or of an overturning boat will not become panic stricken and will be able to take advantage of every chance for safety

CHICAGO MODELS.

The outdoor gymnasium in De Fremery park is to be planned along the lines of models used in Chicago and other cities with great success High swings slides see-saws bars trapezes and other apparatus will be installed There will be a field house for the superintendent of the park which will house dressing rooms lockers showers and other conveniences There will be a second field house for the use of the girls The playground will be one of the most complete in the city

FINEST CARRIAGE STOCK IN CITY TO BE AUCTIONED

C. H. Brosnahan to Retire From Business, in Which He Has for Years Been an Important Factor

The contents of the C H Brosnahan carriage repository at Twelfth and Madison streets, comprising one of the finest selections of pleasure and business vehicles in this city will be sold at auction next Saturday afternoon, July 16 at 1 o'clock

The proprietor, who has for years been catering to the best trade in Oakland in the matter of stylish and modish turnouts and the repairing of the same, is retiring from business, and in this manner hopes to speedily bring to a close an enterprise in which he has been among the most successful in this city and apply himself to other activities

CHANCE FOR FINE EQUIPAGES.

This sale will afford the people of this city who desire to come into possession of beautiful and fashionable equipages an opportunity which is seldom experienced for the reason that sales of this kind are infrequent and would not take place, in this instance, were it not for the fact that the proprietor of the place has made up his mind after a successful career of many years to devote himself to other and less laborious lines of activity.

VARIETY OF VEHICLES.

Brosnahan for a number of years has been among the most enterprising of the carriage and vehicle dealers in this part of the state. His present quarters at Madison and Twelfth streets is one of the most spacious of its kind on the Pacific coast He has at all times kept it stocked with the most stylish carriages, phaetons, runabouts, stanhopes, surreys and vic orias together with an indefinite variety of other standard makes of vehicles to say nothing about an indefinite variety of driving homemade grocery and delivery wagons of all kinds

HAS EXCLUSIVE TRADE.

He has enjoyed the trade of the most exclusive fanciers of all kinds of vehicles and when his extensive stock has not, at times, been able to satisfy the demands of those who had peculiar ideas of their own as to the kind of vehicle in which they desired to appear in public, he has been able in every instance to satisfy their demands by drawing upon the resources of the manufacturers in the east and on the coast of whom he is a special representative

But as stated, C H Brosnahan is going out of the vehicle business His lease on the elegant repository which he has occupied for so many years has expired The structure is to be altered, and what is now one of the finest vehicle display rooms on the coast is to be converted into a number of smaller apartments and devoted to a variety of activities.

CHOICE VEHICLES IN REACH.

There is still left over a large number of vehicles, not one of which is not of the finest manufacture. At the same time, there is not one of them which is not of the latest design, and which does not show the name of the most successful builders in the country Each of the vehicles now on hand is a beauty in its line and those who have a taste for that which is refined and elegant in the way of female and mercantile outfits will do credit to their intelligence by attending this sale

RELIABLE IN EVERYTHING.

There are auction sales of this kind from time to time, but in many instances these sales are conducted by adventurers who come into town on one day and are gone the next There is no person who knows where they came form or where they went There is no person to vouch for them, either as to their honesty or as to where the vehicles they palmed off on the people were manufactured

In this instance, however, everything is new, bright beautiful, modish and staunch, and there is not the slightest doubt but the purchaser will get his money's worth

Brosnahan has been a resident of this city from boyhood He has been a successful mechanic, working for years at the trade which enabled him to construct some of the finest equipages which ever rolled along the streets of this city before he established the magnificent emporium which he has now determined to leave

VEHICLES THE BEST.

He is skilled in his line of business and has at all times lived up to the principle that he would never offer a patron a vehicle of any kind which he could not truthfully say that it was as good as he could make himself, or as good and as safe as he would himself like to use

Brosnahan is one of the best known men in this city His guaranty for a vehicle has been and is unquestioned and as a consequence there will be an attendance at the sale next Saturday afternoon which will include many of the vehicle fanciers in this city and vicinity.

WHY HE RETIRES.

In giving his reasons for retiring from business at the present time, Brosnahan said to a TRIBUNE reporter:

"I embarked in the carriage business in Oakland about 25 years ago on a conservative basis, and kept increasing the same from that time until my health broke about five years ago.

"Edson Adams built this establishment expressly for me and upon its completion offered ground and building on a flat mortgage at cost, $19,000, which I refused I took the same on a five-year lease at $175 per month, Adams selling the property inside of six months for $10,000).

"My health broke about three years ago. I am pleased to state that my old time vigor and strength are returning, but too late for my line of business namely, that of carriages, as the automobile has knocked the cream out of the private carriage business, of which I held a large percentage of the Oakland trade.

SELLS FACTORY.

"I have sold my manufacturing and repair works to two of my trusted employes, Davis and Pesce

"My stock, consisting of surreys stanhopes and buggies, goes at auction Saturday July 16 at 1 p m

"I will rest for the present before embarking in any further business except to lend a hand and whatever knowledge I may possess to one of my political friends of the past who are still in the game

"In conclusion I wish to thank my friends through THE TRIBUNE for the many favors I have received at their hands during the many years I have been in business"

The sale will be conducted by J A Munro & Co.

The Baby Famine in Kansas.

Bleeding Kansas has another woe. The grasshoppers have gone and the rains have come, and prosperity smiles from Medicine Lodge to the Republican River, from the mouth of the Kaw to the Colorado frontier; the corn and wheat crops are big, the hogs and cattle rolling fat, the farm mortgages lean and few and the farmers' bank accounts plethoric.

The opulent tillers of the soil are riding around in automobiles. Blanco Bill, otherwise William Allen White, still instructs the world from that New Sinai, Emporia, and Victor Murdock's red head still flashes in the forefront of the political battle like the red cross of Richard Coeur de Lion at Ascalon; but alas! a new trouble has come to Ossawatomie. As the corn and wheat crops swell the baby crop diminishes. As bank accounts increase babies decrease. Last year there was a decided falling off in the birth rate.

It was not so in the old days when the bearded Pfeffer in the Senate and Sockless Jerry Simpson in the House were the oracles of Kansas; when the Kansas agriculturist blamed Congress for grasshoppers and drouth and demanded an unlimited paper currency as an antidote for crop failure.

Then the baby crop was enormous. Raising h—ll and children were about the only successful industries in Kansas. All the dugouts and sod shanties west of Junction City were hives of youngsters of all sizes, lengths and ages—mostly towheaded and barefooted. They swarmed over the plains like grasshoppers and prairie dogs, fat, sassy and dirty.

But now all is changed. The dugout and the sod cabin have given way to two-story mansions with cyclone cellars beneath and cupolas in front, and the honking automobile has drowned the clamor for rag money and laws that will bring rain and banish grasshoppers. But a new fear has risen in the land. The opulent Kansas farmers are not rearing children to inherit their wealth.

Joe Bristow and Vic Murdock hesitate to charge the scanty yield of babies to the wicked machinations of Uncle Joe Cannon. They do not pretend to have a remedy for the blight that has fallen on Kansas childhood. Even Blanco Bill has no suggestion to offer. Why he is silent on this head passes understanding. For years it has been his habit to ask Roosevelt to straighten out everything that went wrong in the country. Why does he not ask Roosevelt to come to the relief of Kansas? One of Roosevelt's missions is to stop race suicide. In this emergency he is the man Blanco Bill should appeal to

The baby crop of Kansas must be conserved at all hazards, and Roosevelt should put every insurgent and conservationist at work on the job. Here is work to do—happy, glorious work—in obeying the Biblical injunction, "Multiply and replenish the earth," and there will be a crown of honor for every man who makes two babies grow where but one grew before—in Kansas. Roosevelt to the rescue!

The motive that prompts the fight fraternity to make a roar against the four and six-round boxing contests given in legitimate athletic clubs is easily understood. The play should deceive no one. Boxing contests as given in the legitimate athletic clubs are authorized by the same law that forbids regular prizefights. No sane or honest-minded man can fail to note the distinction made by the law any more than he can ignore the plain teachings of common sense and common knowledge. The baneful features of the regular prizefight are wholly lacking in the short boxing contests given in the athletic clubs.

Insurgency Is Anti-Republican.

Says Harper's Weekly: "The Democrats will do well to use Mr. Pinchot's St. Paul speech as a campaign document; they will do better still if they distribute widely Senator Dolliver's speech made during the Senate's two days' renewal of debate over the tariff."

Here is convincing evidence that the insurgent movement is essentially anti-Republican and Democratic in spirit and intention. In his Des Moines speech Senator Dolliver attacked the policy of protection and said he was done with it. In his speech against the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill Senator La Follette advocated the Democratic view of the tariff. The tariff plank of the Indiana Republican platform, written by Senator Beveridge, who voted with the Democrats against the Payne-Aldrich bill, asserts Democratic doctrine. Now comes Harper's Weekly, an old-fashioned anti-protection Democratic journal, advising the Democrats to circulate speeches made by insurgent leaders as campaign literature. Speeches which the Democrats can use for campaign literature cannot be said to be Republican. They are opposed to Republican policy and principles. In this State William Kent is running for the Republican nomination to Congress on a platform that is distinctly Democratic, and which directly antagonizes President Taft and the policy of his administration. He is asking Republican endorsement for Democratic policy and a vote of no-confidence in the Republican administration.

Collector Loeb is right. The Taft administration does not need the endorsement of Theodore Roosevelt or anybdy else. It must stand or fall on its record and merits. Its value is not to be estimated by what any particular man may say about it. Mr. Loeb is a close personal friend of Colonel Roosevelt's, having served as his private secretary, and he knows perhaps more than he cares to say in what estimaation the ex-President holds his successor. His statement that there is no "chasm" or break of any kind between Taft and Roosevelt must be taken as authoritative, for he is the close confidential friend of both, is equally devoted to both. "Colonel Roosevelt sees everybody," he said. "The so-called insurgents were all friends of his and naturally they went to see him. Some of them want him to help them in their campaigns." The inference here conveyed is unmistakable. It is that Roosevelt is not sitting in judgment on Taft and is not giving the insurgents the encouragement they claim he is giving.

San Francisco will not get the Panama-Pacific Exposition by ridiculing the pretensions of New Orleans. It is not wise to underestimate the strength and resources of your adversary. New Orleans is a formidable rival for the exposition. Let us not deceive ourselves that she is not: but, on the contrary, strive all the harder to outbid and outgeneral her. People in California are misled by assertions that New Orleans is not able to finance an exposition, and by ridiculing the Crescent City as a puny and insignificant rival.

For the six months ending June 30th the Recorder's office yielded a net profit of $13,066.79 to the county. Next to March, June—a thirty-day month— showed the largest profit. The showing is a gratifying one for two reasons—good management of the Recorder's office and an active real estate market

Germs in Theater Carpets

The amount of dust that a carpet of ordinary thickness can conceal about its person is astounding. In the old days when cleaning was done by brushing and pounding—stirring up the dirt and allowing the wind to blow it into somebody else's windows—no accurate measure of the dirt-holding capacity of household furnishings was possible. The vacuum cleaner has changed all this. Nowadays the dirtiness of things can be determined by meter, in terms of quarts or bushels per yard.

As an illustration of the startling results sometimes obtained by the modern cleaner, the London Times says that from four strips of carpet in the aisles of a small moving-picture theater a wash-tub full of dust was removed by a little one-quarter-horsepower cleaner. If some of our own local theater carpets can't beat this, appearances are deceptive. As a matter of fact, heavy draperies and thick carpets in places of public meeting are sanitary outrages nowadays.

Dust plays an important part in the spread of disease, and every means should be taken to prevent its accumulation in places where it can be readily stirred into the air and breathed into human lungs. The proper decorative furnishing of a theater is quite as important to the health of its patrons as the character of its plumbing. The health board's oversight of the latter might well be extended to the carpets and draperies. —New York Press.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

County Superintendent of Schools P. M. Fisher, assisted by A. Megahan, is preparing his annual report of the condition of the schools of the county He made, during the year, 356 official visits.

Paul Sanford, principal of the Niles school, has resigned his position and Warren Laree has been elected to fill the vacancy. The new school at Niles is one of the best arranged in the county This is due to Mrs J. E. Thane, one of the trustees, who has been untiring in her efforts to build up the school and make it rank among the first of the county educational places.

Miss Mamie Russell of Milpitas has been elected to a position in the Mewry's Landing school. Miss Ellen McCabe of Oakland, resigned. The latter is seeking a position in the schools of Oakland.

The Co-operative Building and Improvement Company has received its charter from Sacramento, but as yet has obtained no contracts The union will hold a regular meeting this evening, as will also the Builders Association President Tucker of the union, who attended the meeting of the San Francisco union Saturday night, says that that organization will aid the strikers in this city.

C. J. Jones and T. J. Higgins have created excitement in Murray township by the announcement that they have discovered a rich gold ledge there. This afternoon they caused to be recorded a notice to the effect that the ledge was supposed "to contain gold and silver which ran in a northwest and southeast direction 700 feet from the monument." The name of the "Black Queen" is given to the ledge, which is located "about two miles from the coal mines in a southwesterly direction and about one and a half miles from Croh-Mech creek."

The Federal census returns from the ninth district are missing Supervisor Anderson has been looking for them some time, but can get no clew as to their whereabouts. He says that, in the event that they can not be recovered, he will have the district recanvassed.

The home of Rev. A. Lerdken, pastor of the German Methodist Church, while he and his wife were at a religious service in the church of which the former is pastor, last night, was ransacked by burglars. Thirty dollars was secured from a desk in the library.

The meeting of the Golden Gate Fair Association at Oakland Trotting Park promises to be a better race gathering than has ever been held in Oakland before. The association has put up over $20,000 on the events. The races will begin Monday, September 1st.

Until Auditor Snow completes his annual report all statements made regarding the expenses of the city during the past year are merely guesses. According to the books, the remainder in the treasury at the close of the fiscal year was $141,296.78, but as an actual fact, the amount really to the credit of the city was in the neighborhood of $5000.

Great preparation are being made for the return home of ex-Councilman J. T. Carothers, who has been absent from the city for some time. There is to be a banquet given in the dining-room of the Galindo Hotel and addresses will be delivered by Mayor Glascock, ex-Governor George C. Perkins, N. W. Spaulding, Major J. M. Spaulding, Major J. M. Hanford, eGorge T. Bromley, A. A. Moore, E. H. Hamilton and Victor H. Metcalf. The subject which is to be discussed by A. A. Moore will be "The Ladies," that by Mr. Hamilton "The Press," and that by Mr. Metcalf, "Ourselves."

The board of public works is endeavoring to ascertain whether or not it has authority to act as a commission in the matter of the opening of Sixteenth street.

GIRL AVENGES HER FATHER BY KILLING SLAYER

Shoots Down Assassin As He Flees From Her Dying Parent.

MURDERER'S VICTIM REFUSED EXTORTION

Black Hand Society Believed to Be at the Bottom of Tragedy.

NEW ORLEANS, July 13 — Joseph Manzella, proprietor of a saloon and grocery at St. Phillip and Decatur streets, fell a victim to the so-called "black hand society" here today, but his death was avenged a few seconds later when his 17-year-old daughter shot and killed the assassin as he was attempting to escape.

Manzella had recently received many letters signed "Black Hand Society," demanding money. Shortly before noon an Italian called at the store and asked if any money was forthcoming. When ordered out he shot Manzella in the breast. As Manzella fell he drew his revolver and fired at the assassin.

Josephine Manzella rushed into the store and gave chase to the assassin, firing at him as she ran. When the police arrived the girl was bending over the body of her father, weeping. The body of his slayer lay in the gutter outside with three bullet wounds near the heart.

The assassin was identified as Guiseppe Spennazzio, who is said to have come from Sicily recently.

STIVHAN SAMPLES BAY CITIES WATER

Encinal City Health Officer Brings Specimen of Proposed Alameda Drink.

ALAMEDA, July 13. — Dr. L. W. Stivhan, city health officer, returned last evening from the region around Mount Hamilton with six bottles of water from the supply of the Bay Cities Water Company. These samples from the source from which the company proposes to supply the consumers of Alameda county have already been place in the hands of the city chemist, Miss Jessie Berry, and will undergo a chemical and bacteriological analysis immediately.

Dr. Stivhan declined to discuss the quality of the water today.

"I do not care to enter into any water controversy," he said. "I did what was asked of me when I accompanied the officials of the Bay Cities company to Mount Hamilton and obtained the water samples forthwith."

Councilman Ellis, Bert Fisher and City Engineer Chapman, who accompanied Chief Engineer Stephen Duryea and L. R. Dickey, assistant manager of the company, are expected home late this afternoon. Dr. Stivhan stated today that there was a large quantity of water in the region visited by the Alameda county officials. The samples that he obtained were from the Smith, Isabelle, Juanita and Arroyo Valley creeks.

SHOOTING AFFRAY FINALLY CLEARED

Confession of Theodore Burgess Throws Light on the Death of Mahaney.

CHICAGO, July 13.—The shooting of Raymond Mahaney by Elmer Cooper Monday morning was cleared today, according to the police, by the confession of Theodore Burgess who declared that Mahaney and himself lay in wait for Cooper and attempted to rob him. He also connected with the affair John Rush a brother of Cornelia Cooper's fiancee, who said good night to Cooper just before the fatal shots were fired.

Burgess was wounded in the back by one of the shots from Cooper's revolver, and was in hiding until this afternoon, when he was placed in a physician's office.

The confession of Burgess, who is a steamfitter and a friend of John Rush, fits the original account of the shooting near the Rush home, as told by Cooper and Miss Rush. The brother of Mahaney insisted that his son was killed because of his affection for Miss Rush.

Burgess said that John Rush was not present when the attack on Cooper was made and Mahaney was killed, but declared that Rush entered into an agreement to attack Cooper with Mahaney, another man and himself, but that Rush was not with him when Cooper left the Rush home.

Makes Strong Plea For Large Families

BERKELEY, July 13 — "Quality, not quantity" in families received several hard knocks last evening from Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, in a lecture at the First Presbyterian Church. "It is four times as hard to raise one child as to raise four," he said. "Your children will train each other in unselfishness and cooperation. The family is the best kind of training in citizenship. One child in a household becomes a monopolist, and the United States has a surplus of monopolists.

"The most important of all schools is the family, and the family, not the individual, is the unit of the nation. School education alone will never make good citizens. The school trains the wits and not the conscience. When a child is well trained, but has no conscience, he afterwards grows unscrupulous and a poor citizen. The ignorant thief robs a freight car; the educated thief steals the whole road."

FERRIS HARTMAN MAKES HIT IN PRETTY MUSICAL COMEDY

Dancing girls with Ferris Hartman at the Macdonough Theater.

'WOODLAND' IS LIKE ROSTAND'S GREAT 'CHANTECLER'

Dainty Play Charms the Big Audiences Nightly at the Macdonough.

"Woodland," Henry W. Savage's most successful musical comedy, has achieved a remarkable success at the Macdonough Theater this week, where Ferris Hartman is playing to crowded houses in this bird fantasy.

Scenically and musically it is the most meritorious offering that Hartman has yet been provided with, and added interest is being manifested in it on account of the vogue of Rostand's "Chantecler" furore in Paris, which if not fashioned after "Woodland" is near enough like it in theme to justify the imputation of plagiarism. Fixley and Luders, its composers, have never been happier in their selections of either themes or plots than in this charming forest rhapsody.

COMPANY IS GOOD.

The company supporting Hartman is more than adequate, and Miss Dingwall, the prima donna, has achieved a great personal success. Walter De Leon and Miss "Muggins" Davies have also scored and the chorus comes into its own with many fine ensemble numbers.

Following "Woodland," Hartman will again present his old favorite, "The Toymaker." This particularly tuneful and interesting musical piece has not been seen here for three years and more, and is as potent alike to old as well as young as it ever was. Indeed it is the greatest success Hartman has ever had, and his delineation of the old toymaker, "Johannes Guggenheimer," is a real portrait of a delightful personality.

TOYS GIVEN AWAY.

"Toymaker" will be played beginning Sunday matinee and all the week with the exception of Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday evenings and Wednesday matinee, when Miss Anglin will occupy the theatre. At both matinees, Sunday, July 17, and Saturday, July 23, free toys will be given to all children attending.

MUST ANSWER MURDER CHARGE

Conductor Accused of Knocking Man to Pavement Is Taken Into Custody.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Charles C. Brown, a United Railroads conductor, was booked this morning at the Central police station for murder.

On June 26, Brown was taking his car to the Valencia street barns near the corner of Fortieth street.

While en route H. A. Deane, of 4193½ Bartlett street, boarded the car. Brown ordered him off and a quarrel ensued, during which the conductor struck Deane and knocked him with great force from the car to the street. He struck the pavement on the back of his head, sustaining a fractured skull.

After being cared for at the Central Emergency Hospital he was removed to St. Luke's Hospital, where he lingered until this morning, when he died from the effects of his injuries. During the big street railway strike following the earthquake Conductor Brown shot and killed a man. He was arrested but proved self-defense and the case against him was dismissed.

Car Conductor Held For Fatal Assault

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Harry Beare, who was injured in an altercation on a street car on June 20, died today. Charles B. Brown, who was the conductor on the car at the time of the fight, and who has been held in defiance by the police as the assailant of Beare, has been charged with murder.

MERCHANTS WAGE FIGHT FOR LOW INSURANCE RATE

Exchange Confronted With Raised Figures in Business Sections of the City; Demands Are Made

For a long time past the Oakland Merchants' Exchange has been actively striving to obtain a reduced rate of fire insurance. Following the San Francisco conflagration of April, 1906, the Pacific coast underwriters raised the insurance rates throughout the state to recoup the enormous losses they suffered through that catastrophe. The opportunity for starting the movement for reduced rates presented itself when the Oakland underwriters appealed to the Merchants' Exchange for the insurance of the properties of its members to be written by them. Coupled with the response sent to the appeal was a request for a comparative statement from the underwriters showing the rates existing in 1906, 1907 and 1910, on a number of buildings selected at random from various parts of the business district.

STATEMENT RETURNED.

The following statement was returned, no figures being given for 1906, on the representation that the records of the companies in which policies were then held by the insured had been destroyed in the big fire:

Location.	Owner	1907	1910	Increase	Decrease

A special inquiry instituted by the exchange resulted in the disclosure, however, that in several instances the rates of insurance on various Oakland business firms had been doubled and trebled since 1906, and that although the municipality has spent large sums of money for increased fire protection facilities, the return made by the Oakland underwriters shows that, instead of a reduction, there has been an increase in the aggregate rate of insurance.

The following communication was, therefore, sent to the Pacific underwriters by the Oakland Merchants' Exchange.

"Mr. W. S. Duval, District Secretary Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, Merchants Exchange Building, San Francisco.

"Dear Sir: In answer to your letter of June 1, 1910, we wish to call your attention to the following facts.

"The City of Oakland has in the past four years expended a large amount of money and devoted much effort to improve the local conditions in the matter of fire protection.

"We call your attention to the following figures obtained by us from the City Auditor's office which are the amounts expended in maintenance and improvements in the Fire Department.

"June 30, 1905, to June 30, 1906, $174,000; June 30, 1906, to June 30, 1907, $183,000; June 30, 1907, to June 30, 1908, $238,000, June 30, 1908, to June 30, 1909, $255,000 June 30, 1909, to June 30, 1910, $390,000—$1,240,000.

"Included in these amounts is the new salt water plant which, as you are aware, has been officially tested and accepted by the city.

"In addition, steps have been taken to put several down town companies on a full paid basis, and additional equipment has been ordered both for the salt water system and the regular system.

"Besides it is intended immediately to further extend the salt water system, and bonds have been sold to erect a modern fire proof building for the fire alarm telegraph.

NO REDUCTION.

"Notwithstanding all these facts, there has been no substantial reduction in the cost of business insurance. On the contrary, the premiums on practically all risks except residences have been largely increased over the rates of 1906 and previous, and the rates at present are practically the same as the rates of 1907 in spite of the fact that the fire protection is much better than it was three years ago.

"We enclose a list of rates on buildings which are practically in the same condition in which they were four years ago, which shows that while changes have occurred owing to the change of tenant conditions, the increases are more than the decreases, which certainly does not show a reduction as intimated in your letter.

"These rates were compiled for us by agents here in Oakland and do not include the 1906 rate, which was very much lower than 1907.

"Now Mr. Duval, to make a long story short, we on behalf of the Merchants Exchange of Oakland, who of course are large buyers of insurance and large taxpayers, and are therefore fit to judge in the matter, would respectfully ask when the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific will recognize the efforts of the city of Oakland in the matter of increasing fire protection, and grant a substantial reduction in the present rates on business property.

"Hoping you will consider this matter and reply as promptly as possible, we are Yours respectfully,

"THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE OF OAKLAND.

"E. A. YOUNG, President.
"WILBUR WALKER, Secretary."

This letter brought forth the following reply:

SHOWING DECLARED GOOD.

"Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific.

"San Francisco, July 8, 1910.

"Mr. Wilbur Walker, Secy. Merchants Exchange, Oakland.

"Dear Sir: Your favor of June 17, commenting on the fire protection for Oakland and signed by President E. A. Young and yourself, has had my careful attention.

"The present fire protection for Oakland is at the present time having the consideration of our committee.

"The statements from the City Auditor's office will be of value in presenting this matter.

"From a list of 187 risks in the congested district I find a reduction in all cases, with the exception of twenty-nine buildings. When one considers the radical changes that have taken place in Oakland during the past four years, this would seem to be a fairly good showing. Your city grew very rapidly after the San Francisco fire, and it has developed from a very quiet city to a very active one during this period. Fire protection did not keep pace with its growth. Now that the city is catching up in its fire protection, fire insurance rates will be made consistent with the amount of protection furnished. Many of the buildings referred to in your list, we have found to be underrated, when it came to apply the Brick Merchantile schedule copy of which is enclosed. The Macdonough building, for instance, had built up so many defects that the almost doubling of the insurance rate was fully warranted. This particular risk is now handled by the owners. The theater-made cafe and the resulting insurance rates promised them for improvements, is entirely satisfactory.

"Thanking the Exchange for the attention given this matter, I remain,

"Yours truly,

"W. S. DUVAL,
"District Secretary."

INSPECT EQUIPMENT.

In the meantime the Pacific Underwriters have had their engineer inspecting the engine houses and their equipments and were present at the public test made of the salt water auxiliary fire protection plant, which received their hearty approval, but while the rates on residences has been reduced the Merchants' Exchange is still confronted with the fact that the rates on business property has not been reduced.

GRANTED NEW TRIALS.

CINCINNATI, July 13.— New trials were ordered today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here for J. S. Prettyman, banker, and Abraham and Jacob Kanner, merchants, all of Dresden, Ohio, who were sentenced to terms of six years in the Fort Leavenworth prison for alleged misappropriation of funds of the National Bank of Dresden in 1906.

ACCEPT PLANS FOR THE NEW QUAY WALL

Board of Public Works to Make $360,000 Improvement From Plans Just Made

The plans and specifications for the proposed new quay wall to be built in the estuary from Myrtle to Clay streets, were received and accepted by the Board of Public Works this morning. The lengthy document, accompanied by detailed maps of the nature of the proposed construction, represents more than six months' diligent work on the part of City Engineer Turner and Assistant City Engineer Brown.

Bids will be advertised for immediately and the contract for the construction of the wall for the 2000 feet already obtained by the city will be let on August 13.

The entire length of the quay, as proposed by the city, is to be 2700 feet, and will extend from Myrtle street to Broadway. At present the city has only gained possession through purchase and condemnation proceedings of 2000 feet or from Myrtle to Clay streets. In the plans submitted today by the city engineer's office, the construction of the wall for the entire 2700 feet is provided for, but contracts are to be asked on only 2000 feet of this.

MADE OF CONCRETE.

The quay wall, as provided by the city engineer's plans and specifications, will be constructed of concrete to hard pan, 44 feet in depth. It will be 22 feet in width at base and 5 feet in width at the top. The plans call for 30 feet of water on its front at low tide.

It is estimated that the cost will approximate $180 the lineal foot or $360,000 for the construction of the 2000 feet to be advertised for at the present time. This amount, as well as the time necessary for the complete construction of the entire proposed length of 2700 feet, was provided for in the recent bond issue for waterfront improvement.

It should be understood that the estimate of $180 a lineal foot provides for only the construction of the wall itself and does not include the construction of the proposed belt railroad, the proposed street or necessary dredging in the estuary.

TEX WANTS JEFF TO FIGHT AGAIN

Rickard Visits the Big Fellow at Los Angeles and May Arrange Second Match.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Tex Rickard arrived in Los Angeles today ready for more worlds to conquer. While the Nevadan refused to make the positive statement that he is here for the avowed purpose of getting Jim Jeffries' consent to another meeting with Johnson, those who are in touch with him are confident that when he leaves he will know exactly what Jeff intends to do so far as another battle with the champion is concerned.

Rickard had not been in town an hour before he reached Jeff by telephone. A lengthy talk followed, after which Tex admitted that he arranged a meeting with the alfalfa farmer for tonight.

The arrival of the promoter shortly after Jeff's statement that he might fight Johnson again has set the local sporting fraternity to buzzing. He smilingly denied that the sole object of his trip was to sound Jeff for another battle, but he admitted that they will indulge in no small amount of fight talk when he and the big fellow get together.

"I'm going to be in Southern California two months," Rickard said. "Much of that time will be spent with Nat Goodwin at his beach cottage in Santa Monica. Also, I am going to Catalina Island for a fishing trip soon."

TRIP TO CATALINA.

Jeffries' trip to Catalina, planned for early this week, was postponed at the last minute and within a few hours of the time set for departure. While Rickard refused to admit that he will be one of Jeff's party, no one here would be surprised if the fighter and the promoter made the trip together.

Tex is optimistic for the future of the fight game. He declared that boxing is far from dead, and predicted a revival during the coming year.

POISON IN SHOE OF WOMAN PRISONER

Matron Frustrates Attempt of Feminine Check Passer to End Her Life.

Mrs. Laura M. Coster, whose effort to commit suicide at the county jail was frustrated by Matron White last night, is still in a despondent mood and is being kept under watch lest she make some further effort to end her life. She has quieted after the attack of hysterics which followed the discovery of poison on her person, but it still despondent.

Mrs. Coster seems to have a hopeless predilection to pass fictitious checks. She has been on probation for this charge, but was returned to jail for passing more worthless paper. She was permitted to buy some drugs, accompanied by a deputy sheriff, and managed to secure poison pellets and a bottle of lysol, which she concealed on her person.

Matron White found the bottle of lysol in the woman's shirtwaist, and this provoked a general search, which resulted in finding the pellets concealed in her shoe. There was enough poison to kill a score of people.

GAMBLED AWAY SALARY AND HER $2000, SAVING WIFE TESTIFIES IN TRIAL

Livermore Physician Tells Judge Spouse Consumed Much Liquor and Abused Him Greatly; He Gets Divorce

William Orville Johnson, Pacific Coast agent for the Grand Trunk railroad, gambled away his salary, his heavy expense account, his wife's money, money he obtained by pawning a diamond, money he borrowed from friends and money he obtained by mortgaging his furniture, his wife, Alice Irene Johnson, testified before Judge Ellsworth, and she was today awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce.

When the two were married in Reno, Nev., July 24, 1902, he had $700 and she had $2000. His money went between the opening of the racing season and the following May; her money followed, and then the pawning, borrowing and mortgaging began.

Mrs. Johnson testified that her husband belonged to the Olympic Club and the Transportation Club of San Francisco solely for the opportunity the clubs offered for gambling, saying:

"He was a member of both simply to gamble; took no advantage of the club in any other way."

"His salary was $150 a month, and a heavy expense account, which he used to gamble," Mrs. Johnson said in reply to another question.

Shortly after this Johnson disappeared, and his wife said she then learned that her husband had taken money belonging to the company.

"It was never definitely decided how much he had taken," Mrs. Johnson testified. "He had taken two pay checks of $350 each, and he had taken that and some money that was due to the Western Union Company. I never knew exactly how much that was, as he was bonded. He had skipped out to avoid being arrested by them."

Finally she found that he had gone to Manila. Then he began writing and finally induced her to go to Iloilo, where he was living. On her arrival she found that he had been living with a native woman, she testified, and this native woman, in a rage at being deposed from the household, attacked Mrs. Johnson on the street tearing her clothing and shrieking until she was restrained. Then Johnson admitted his relations, and Mrs. Johnson returned to the United States, going to the home of her brothers and bringing suit for divorce. John on was served with the papers by mail, and replied by asking his wife not to be in a hurry. She waited two months, and then pressed the matter to an interlocutory decree.

CLAIMS LIQUOR WRECKED HOME.

Liquor wrecked the home of Dr. James K. Warner, a Livermore physician, and after telling how his wife, Eva, had abused him while in her cups, he was today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce by Judge Ellsworth.

Dr. Warner declared that to return from a professional call was to begin a row at home, in which his wife would call him vile names, pull his hair, scratch his face and sometimes continue her abuse for several hours.

"The general trouble," he testified, "was that Mrs. Warner was addicted to drinking, and when she would get under the influence of liquor, which in the last year was practically every day, it was simply hell at home. The minute I would come in she immediately attacked me, and she immediately charged me either with being out with some other woman or some intrigue of some sort and would accept absolutely no explanation.

"I never supplied her with a drop of liquor in my life, and I even went to people I thought were supplying her and told them I would pay them double the amount they would get from her by continuing to supply her if they would refuse to sell her more."

Dr. Warner voluntarily offered to pay her $50 a month for her support so long as she remains single, saying he did not want her to become dependent, and at his suggestion this provision was inserted in the decree granted him.

COULD NOT SUPPORT FAMILY.

Owning a painting business capable of netting him $250 a month, Frederick M. Bailey drank so to excess that he could not support his family, according to the evidence upon which his wife, Ella M., was today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce. Mrs. Bailey testified that his shop would remain closed for days at a time.

"I humored him in every way, and tried to shame him out of drinking, but it did no good," the wife testified, after telling that she had been forced to accept a position as cook in a Berkeley family because of her husband's improvidence, though he had a lucrative business when he attended to it. She once before filed suit, but upon Bailey signing a pledge, postponed action for six months, but the pledge, she said, lasted only for a short time.

WIFE TELLS TALE OF CRUELTIES.

Recovering her senses after she had been kicked into unconsciousness by her husband, the first words Emily A. Strickler heard were his threats to "finish her." This happened in Afognak, Alaska, in the realm where the poet once said laws of neither God nor man prevail. Mrs. Strickley makes this charge in a suit for divorce she has just filed in the Superior Court, and she charges him with refusing to get wood for her when she was almost frozen, refusing to provide her with food and stealing hers when she had obtained some for herself, breaking her dishes, stealing her bedding, tearing her clothing, throwing chunks of ice at her, kicking and beating her.

Ernest Strickley, the husband, was a character in the far north in the gold rush days.

ALWAYS INVENTING SUICIDE METHODS.

Harry W. Hawkins, every time he was offended, thought up a new way to commit suicide and he was easily offended, his wife, Daisie, testified, and upon her evidence the Court has awarded her a final decree of divorce.

He threatened to strike dynamite caps together and blow himself to eternity, took ether and threatened to repeat the dose many times, threatened to take corbolic acid, cut his throat with a razor, jump down a mine shaft, carried a revolver and knives at various times, either as a demonstration against himself or somebody else, and kept his wife constantly expecting a call from an undertaker.

Clemence Sobry refused to come to the United States from France and her husband, Frank, has obtained a final decree on the ground of desertion.

WIFE ON STAND IN HARTJE CASE

Woman Tells Court the Paper Manufacturer Has Not Contributed to Support.

PITTSBURG, July 13.—Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, wife of Augustus Hartje, a wealthy paper manufacturer of Pittsburg, entered in common pleas court today an amended libel in the divorce proceedings which have been going on for almost five years.

Mrs. Hartje, on the stand, declared that her husband had not lived with her since July 1, 1905, and that since then he had not contributed to her support. Judge Frazer accepted several papers from her attorney and said he would announce his decision later.

Almost simultaneously with the court proceedings a Pittsburg evening newspaper appeared with a story that a final divorce had been granted and a cash settlement had also been agreed upon, but this was unconfirmed.

The case of the Hartjes began with the husband's first charges of infidelity and developed promptly counter charges by Mrs. Hartje. Hartje's arrest came with charges of even a more serious nature. In 1907 a seven weeks' trial was held and the case attracted wide attention. The judgment at the time was adverse to Hartje and appeals proved fruitless. Meanwhile Mrs. Hartje's cross charges have been pending.

Union's Secretary Is Sued for Funds

Suit to recover $500 of the money embezzled by William Rambo while treasurer of the Carpenters' union was begun in the superior court today. C. K. Kelley, Edward Thompson and A. Wilson, as trustees of Local Union No. 38, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, filed the suit and Rambo, R. Wiand and John Ristrom are the defendants.

Rambo is said in the complaint to have misappropriated $700. Wiand and Ristrem are on his bond. As it amounts to only $500, this is all that can be recovered.

RED NOSES CLEARED

Effect of Poslam, the New Skin Remedy, Is Immediately Perceptible.

"I have been troubled with red nose and eczema for nearly eight years until I discovered Poslam, the new magic cure. My face was a sight, and I was ashamed to be seen on the street. I was surprised to see the improvement after a month's treatment and, I have a nice, clear complexion from which the pimples and my red nose disappeared like magic," says Charles F. Stutler, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. "My nose would be like a boil," says Carl D. Steinhoff, Columbus, Ohio, "not only painful, but embarrassing. I have given Poslam a thorough trial. My face became smooth and fair. My nose is a natural color and does not get sore."

Poslam is the new skin remedy, naturally flesh-colored, which heals and hides all skin imperfections. Although primarily intended for eczema—stopping the itching with first application and rapidly restoring the health of the skin—Poslam shows immediate and surprising results when used for less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, blotches, inflammations, etc.

Poslam is on sale in 50 cent boxes and $2 jars at all druggists, particularly the Owl Drug Co. A free sample may be obtained by mail in plain wrapper by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York City.

DRESSES AS TRAMP FEARING ROBBERS

Wealthy Hungarian Has Very Strange Ideas Regarding Inhabitants of America.

NEW YORK, July 13—Wearing the garb of a tramp to give the impression that he is a poor man, Lajos Burrar, one of the wealthiest land owners of Eastern Hungary, has arrived here on the last lap of a trip around the world. Although more than 65 years of age, Burrar has never been absent from his frontier home before and he entertains the idea that America is filled with brigands and that only unceasing vigilance and the avoidance of external signs of prosperity can save him from being robbed before he gets back to Tigsafushied his native town.

FEARED ALL STRANGERS.

When he registered at a local hotel, with two companions, both lusky six-footers, he gave orders that he was not to be approached by any strangers.

One of the aged man's companions is a nephew, Michael Burrar, professor of chemistry in a school at Buda Pest. His other companion is an Italian who acts as interpreter. This man said last night, explaining the elder Burrar's eccentric garb and customs:

PRIMITIVE FRONTIER LIFE.

"Life on the frontier of Hungar is very primitive, as it lies next to the outposts of Turkey and the folk there have strange ideas about other parts of the world. Mr Burrar has feared all along that if he dresses in style he would be robbed. We have repeatedly begged him to buy new clothes and visit the barber, but he clings to his old clothes and ways, asserting that no one would rob a man who did not look prosperous. He has heard strange tales of robbery in America."

Unhappy Wives Flock To Reno for Divorces

RENO, July 13—The name of Reno seems to be growing in attractiveness to the mismated of the upper social circles of the Atlantic metropolis. The town is becoming literally swamped with women seeking divorces. They are arriving from the East in greater numbers than ever before. Judges Pike and Orr yesterday held a session for the special assignment of fifty-six new cases docketed since June 16th.

Out of this number forty were divorce suits, making the average of more than one a day and constitutes four-fifths of the total number of court actions. The latest arrival is Mrs. J. Douglas De Forest, wife of the wealthy New York stock broker here under the name of Douglas.

Knox in Masquerade Recognized by Friend

LOS ANGELES, July 13—The Masquerader might have been the title of an amusing little drama that was enacted at the Metropole Hotel, Avalon, yesterday. Meeting an old classmate of Yale, '07, on the veranda, young Hugh Knox, son of Philander C. Knox, Secretary of State, who was registered as Frank Cush of Waterbury, Conn., found his incognito uncovered.

A notable son of old Eli, Walter L. Camp, the football hero and orator of much football literature with Mrs. Camp, accompanied Knox to the island for a week's outing and belong. Camp is secretary of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, and has been entertaining Knox at Long Beach.

Young Knox has been in Phoenix, Ariz., for the last few months. Short of stature, he bears a striking resemblance to his distinguished father with the same restless dark eyes and dark hair growing sparse on the forehead. He is a bachelor and has not had the romantic marital history of his two younger brothers. He refused to make any explanation for masquerading as Gus Camp, Local boys in

PRETTY GIRL'S FISTS PUT BOLD RUFFIAN TO ROUT IN ATTACK ON DARK STREET

Santa Clara Telephone Girl Pummels Man on Bicycle and Pursues Him During an Inglorious Rout

SANTA CLARA, July 13—Belle Condon, a pretty 18-year-old telephone operator, put to flight a husky ruffian who assaulted her on her way home from work at 9 o'clock last night.

The young woman was walking slowly down Franklin street when an unknown man rode up alongside of the sidewalk on a bicycle and, rushing up to her, grabbed her by the throat.

Much to his surprise, his victim showed such a spirit of fight that he released his hold and soon found his face being pummeled with blows that would have done credit to a man.

The plucky miss then clawed the thug with her nails, at the same time calling for help.

The resistance was too much for the man and he fled for his bicycle, but Miss Condon kept up such a persistent running fight with him that he fell several times in the dust before he was able to make his escape.

Many persons were attracted by this time to the scene, but the ruffian had made good his escape. The authorities were notified and word has been sent all along the valley to look out for the man, who should be easily identified by the marks on his face.

The Condon family, to which the heroine of the encounter belongs, is well known through the valley and has strong connections throughout Native Sons circles.

Girl of Sixteen Without Soul

GREELEY, Colo., July 13—Girls turning 16 are absolutely irreligious and have no soul to speak of, according to Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president and professor of psychology at Clark University, Worcester, Mass., lecturing at the summer normal school here yesterday. Hence it is, he explained, that they are devoted to rats, puffs, psyche knots, fudge and giggles.

"The budding girl is as baffling a problem as the soul of woman," said Doctor Hall, "and the world now knows that instead of no soul at all, woman now has one, two, three or even four more than man.

"The young girl is absolutely irreligious in her nature. She is myopic, seeing the immediate present, whereas a boy looks into the future. Her life is all emotion, and for that reason a certain religious fervor is likely to appeal to her."

Woman Victim of Acid Fiend

PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—Three times in the past month Mrs. B. C. Jennings of Gresham, twelve miles from here, has been the victim of mysterious assaults, a solution of concentrated lye being thrown in her face by a night visitor, whose identity is unknown. An investigation is being made by the sheriff, and the entire town is in a state of excitement.

The last assault was made about midnight Saturday, when Mrs. Jennings was badly burned about the face, and her companion, 13-year-old Eva Hamlin, who was sleeping in the room with her, was frightened into hysterics. With them was Mrs. Jennings' terrier. The chamber door was locked.

Mrs. Jennings was awakened from a sound sleep by the little dog jumping on her chest, she declares, tearing at the bedding and barking furiously. In an instant she felt her mouth covered by a gloved hand, and in the struggle which followed her face was daubed with concentrated lye. Her cries and those of Eva Hamlin, together with the barking of the dog, evidently struck fear to the heart of the invader, who fled through the window, from which the screen had been torn.

The two previous attacks were made in June, one on the 22d and the other earlier in the month. Each time Mrs. Jennings' face was burned, the last attack being made before she had recovered from the one on June 22. Harry Collins, a young man who had been rooming in the house, was also burned in one of the previous attacks on the household.

Actress to Study Chantecler

NEW YORK, July 13.—John W. Alexander, the painter, sailed for Europe today on the Mauretania, accompanied by Mrs. Alexander, Miss Maude Adams and Alf Hayman, to study during the summer months all those elements of Rostand's "Chantecler" that go to make a stage picture. Miss Adams intends to go to England to confer with J. M. Barrie after a few weeks of "Chantecler" study in Paris, but Alexander and his wife, who is to aid her husband in designing the costumes for the Frohman production of the French play here next season, will stay in Paris until September.

Alexander is to superintend the "Chantecler" performance in New York in the same manner that he supervised the open-air productions of "As You Like It" and "Joan of Arc." Alexander could give no date for the first American production of "Chantecler." He said he thought that by January next everything will be in readiness for the cock to crow, and so cause the sun to rise.

Seed King's Widow Passes Away

SAN JOSE, July 13—Mrs. C. C. Morse of Santa Clara, widow of the man who initiated the great seed industry in this county, died last evening at her home in the Mission town.

Mrs. Morse crossed the plains to Santa Clara from Iowa in 1853, nine months being required for the journey. A few years later she was married to Morse, then a prominent rancher, and soon the C. C. Morse Seed Company, which paved the way for the making of one of this valley's greatest industries, was launched.

She was a devoted and prominent church worker and, in addition, was a member of the King's Daughters and prominent in local Chautauqua work. No arrangements for the funeral have as yet been made.

To Honeymoon in Aeroplane

NEW YORK, July 13.—Frederick Philip Schneider, aviation enthusiast, and Miss Eva Matilda Leonhauser are to be married July 20 and will spend their honeymoon in an aeroplane of Schneider's manufacture. They will make a series of flights together, which will take them "they know not whither, they do not care," as the bride-to-be said last night. Schneider became interested in aviation five years ago. Miss Leonhauser has also been interested in airships, and they met first through this mutual enthusiasm.

City Has Fewer Babes But More Children

CHICAGO, July 13—The school census of Evanston, a North Shore suburb, tabulated yesterday showed 208 fewer children under 6 years old than a year ago. The totals were 3395 as against 3603 of 1909.

As an effect to this apparent tendency toward race suicide that part of the population above six years, including both young people and adults, showed a gain of 209 individuals. The figures were 25,551.

This places the population of the suburb at 2,107, a gain of nearly 5,000 inhabitants over previous estimates.

Says Iceman Eloped With Diamond Rings

NEW YORK, July 13. — Francisco Di Marino, an iceman, is locked up on a charge of grand larceny made by Mrs. Florence Mastick, a former customer of his. Mrs. Mastick says that she sent down from her flat in a dumb waiter an envelope which contained 10 cents to pay for a piece of ice Marino had just left.

She says the iceman took the envelope, called up to her "All right" and that was the last she saw of the man.

Then she says she learned that the envelope she had sent down to Marino contained three diamond rings worth $600.

To Teach Young Idea How to Keep Afloat

CHICAGO, July 13—"Every boy and girl ought to know how to swim," said Mrs. Eliza Flagg Young, superintendent of public schools, yesterday, "and every boy and girl attending the public schools will soon be compelled to learn to swim. Just as he or she is taught to read and write in the regular grammar course.

"Every teacher ought to know how to swim, and the first step in accomplishing this fact will be the introduction into our teachers' training course at the normal school of a course of swimming. Eventually we will establish swimming tanks in each of the high school throughout the city and the children attending the various grammar schools can be brought to the high schools to receive their practical training.

"Instructions in the proper way to swim can be given in the classroom, but actual practice will have quicker results and will rob the water of whatever terror it has for some of the more timid ones."

SAVOY 1016 WASHINGTON

CALIFORNIA OIL TO SUPPLY NEEDS OF WORLD

Enormous Amount of the Fluid Demanded by the Auto Industry Alone.

HIGH GRAVITY PRODUCT IN STATE PLENTIFUL

Gas Engine Demand Also Large Enough to Make Inroads On Wells.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—That the rapidly increasing world demand for gasoline, together with the existence in California of the world's most extensive high gravity oil fields will cause the refining of oil to become one of the most important industries in the state in the opinion of many oil men well posted on the marketing side of the industry.

In the face of the enormous production of fuel oil in California the need of refining oil containing a high percentage of gasoline, paraffine, kerosene, lubricating oils and other distillates has been almost overlooked. Yet the demand for gasoline is so rapidly increasing and the Eastern high gravity fields have shown so diminished an output that in the opinion of many dealers a gasoline famine if not immediately threatened is forecasted by the rising prices. Automobile dealers report that the shortage has already advanced prices in San Francisco.

ENORMOUS DEMAND.

The automobile business in the United States has put a premium on the production of gasoline. About 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline are produced for commercial purposes in the United States every year, of which perhaps 15,000,000 gallons may be accounted for by the automobiles of the country. This means that the retail trade in gasoline for automobiles alone amounts to $37,000,000 annually, a trade well worth California's consideration. The price of gasoline is bound to advance the experts say.

There are some 200,000 automobiles in use in the United States and $15 billion dollars worth of gas engines and automobiles are built every year.

SUPPLY IS HERE

That California contains high gravity refining oil in sufficient quantities not only to supply all present but all future demands for gasoline is recognized by experts who have watched the development and subsequent mapping out of the California fields. The most extensive known high gravity fields in California and in the world are in Ventura county, one of the oldest fields in the state although high gravity wells are also found in the coast fields in other parts of the state and to some extent in Utah and Wyoming. The Ventura county high gravity oil is now bringing $1.25 per barrel at the well and some of the very fine oils are contracted for wholesale as high as $2.40 per barrel. This oil is in intense demand in California where there are thirty five refineries and the oil is shipped in considerable part to the Standard refinery at Point Richmond.

WORK BEING RUSHED

The distinction between the value of fuel oil and refining oil is illustrated by the fact that in Ventura county the Union Oil Company is rushing work on the pipe line from the port of Ventura to Oxnard so that the Oxnard sugar factory may use fuel oil from the interior in preference to the higher gravity refining oil which has hitherto been piped from Ventura. The fuel oil will be piped directly from tank steamers at Ventura to Oxnard.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE TO MEXICO

Vessels Are Now Being Put in Shape to Run Down the West Coast.

SEATTLE, July 13.—Captain Fred Hellen, one of the old members of the shipping firm of Hellen & Ostander, which for many years operated steamships between Puget Sound ports and California, has returned to the city from a visit to Mexico, where he went with the intention of establishing a steamship line between Seattle and Mexican ports. Captain Hellen says that next fall he will put a line of steamships in operation between Seattle and Mexican ports. The steamships will be operated by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, which controls the Columbia & Puget Sound and Harriman coastwise lines. Captain Hellen will be one of the directors of the new company.

REFUSE PROPOSAL

Captain Hellen declares that the Mexican government has refused to grant the new line a subsidy. The Mexican government wanted to take the steamships but when Captain Hellen refused to sell the vessels the government refused to grant the new line a subsidy. Captain Hellen says that he will operate the new line without a subsidy if the new line is established.

DEATH CONTINUES SILENCE OF YEARS

Man Who Uttered No Word for Years, Dies in New Jersey.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., July 13.—Charles Hoffman, who has not spoken a word for three years according to his neighbors, is dead. He passed away last night without breaking the silence which has prevailed so long. Just before death he made an effort to speak to his brother-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Lamb, who called for him in his own vehicle. The effort failed, however, and the attempt fell from his own lips. Then he had the power of articulate.

Hoffman was 67 years old. He was one of five sons of a prosperous family. The other four are living and are prominent in their communities. Hoffman spent his early life like his brothers on his father's farm. At the age of 30 he rented a farm and owned a fine team of horses of which he was very proud. He was fond of society and attended all the social gatherings of his community.

MISFORTUNE COMES

Then misfortune overtook him. He lost his farm and finally his pet team. He went to bed and for a long time refused to get up. Finally he left on crutches and did not return when he was next seen. He arose one night to a thunderstorm and walking in his garden in the rain. After that he never left his cabin.

Another Hoffman was insane. He committed suicide. Although he had been under the care of physicians with power to commit him to an institution, this could not be done. Evidence filed after the time of his death showed that the dying Hoffman told his keeper to let him alone for the last decade of his inactivity. His vitality for a period of weeks had been so low that at times his heart almost failed to beat for several days before his death. Physicians could not detect any pulse.

DENIES REPORTED SALE IN MIDWAY

St. Lawrence Property to Be Kept for Revenue, According to Official.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Advices from Asheville, N. C., received yesterday by officials of the Associated Oil Company in line with its recently adopted policy of obtaining high producing refinery holdings in the State of Texas, prompted the Midway Oil Company in the Midway district to report that it had purchased the St. Lawrence property in the Midway district. Isaac Stossel, secretary of the St. Lawrence Company, said that he proposed to keep the St. Lawrence for revenue purposes. It is an important producer and one of the most successful companies in the Kern Midway.

It will be recalled that Strasburger & Stossel bought the Midway property for $3,000,000. The purchase was made by the Associated Oil Company, one of the most important factors in the Standard Oil combination. It is no secret that the Associated is short of oil. In the Pioneer Midway it has a good deal of one of the most important portions of the North Midway. Well No. 9, which threw a great gusher and later settled up is now yielding steadily at the rate of 3000 barrels a day.

The supply of the Associated has been affected naturally by the formation of independent companies. A large percentage of the independents have contracted their output to this corporation for a period of 10 years. The Associated is not able to refuse to go into the market as one could and draw higher and this it has desired for the needed pick up. With it set out to make new contracts it found a very big proportion of the supply tied up to the agency. For the interests of its growing business it set about to purchase producing properties.

Protege of Gadski To Sing in Chicago

Miss Mildred Graham, protege of Mme. Gadski, who has been studying for the last two years in Europe with Gadski's instructor, and who recently closed her engagement with the Stettin opera company in Berlin, has accepted a call from the Chicago opera company for two weeks. She will sing the soubrette roles in the grand operas and according to critics she is admirably suited to these parts.

The singer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Richardson, 144 Webster street. Just May she visited her parents and friends in this city and also gave a concert in the Macdonough theater where she scored a hit and took the music lovers by storm.

The camp meeting will continue over next Sunday, July 17. The park is a very cool and shaded place to spend a warm evening. To reach the park take the Diamond car on Thirty-fifth street which passes the gate of the park.

Despondent Attorney Attempts to End Life

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—George C. Wood, living at 103 Pierce street, attempted to commit suicide early this morning at his home by shooting himself in the right temple with a 38 caliber revolver. Despondency caused by ill health is attributed as the cause. Wood has been employed as a conductor by the United railroads. His friends say he made a number of threats to kill himself and it is thought he had been suffering from a complication of diseases from which he was suffering.

The bullet did not penetrate the skull but ran around under the scalp. Unless blood poisoning sets in Wood will recover. Immediately after the attempt he was taken to the St. Francis hospital.

Declares $25,000 Will Is Clumsy Forgery

SACRAMENTO, July 13. — Handwriting Expert Eisenschimel of San Francisco testified, declared under examination in the Granville Turnish will contest, involving an estate valued at $25,000, that the will presented by the widow, Adelaide Turnish, which bequeaths the entire estate to her, is a clumsy forgery. He said that it is not a will but a copy. One of the characteristics of Granville Turnish's handwriting appears in it.

Mrs. Turnish is contesting a will filed by two cousins, that of her late husband, in which her entire estate was left to them, she being cut off without a cent. The will, she claims, is genuine, as written in block letters and signed in full.

Real Estate Dealer Writes Popular Song

Fred A. Campbell, well known in Oakland where he has been engaged in the real estate business for many years, is the author of the words of a new song recently published and entitled "Don't You Cry No More." The music is by Douglas Burt. The song has found immediate favor with those who have secured copies and will be heard shortly in the local theaters as well as the higher class cafes about the bay. Campbell has published several poems of current interest but the new song is his first attempt along this line. He is being congratulated on the success of the composition.

STATE OIL MEN SEEKING MARKETS

Long Expected Announcement of New Takers May Be Made Soon.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—While marketing conditions in the oil industry are still an unsettled condition there is very prospect that the Producers agency will have something important to announce before many weeks have gone by. The officials of the agency have been devoting their full energies to the enormous task before them—that of providing storage and making new selling contracts. What large contracts are in the process of negotiation is well understood.

The agency members will meet today in Bakersfield. This will be the first meeting since the amalgamation of the Bakersfield and Coalinga boards. The notices for the meeting contain no information of special topics for consideration.

Although the agency is long on all a few big contracts and its additional pipe line facilities would enable it to market all but now comes to its dank. Within 90 days the first of the big reservoirs will be completed near San Luis Obispo. Other facilities for impounding the surplus will be provided as rapidly as possible.

There appears to be good ground for the reports that the Standard as well as the Associated is purchasing at current rates. It is stated that the Standard has offered to contract for the output of the Consolidated Midway at 90 cents a barrel. The Consolidated Midway recently brought in a big producer near the famous Lakeview. After a few days of activity this well broke forth with a stream that is said to rival that of its noted neighbor.

PRODUCING WELLS KEEPING UP FLOW

Gushers Coming in Every Day and All of Them Spouting Heavily.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—With the supply of the oil wells in excess of the piping and market facilities the last few days have been marked by some particular additions to the state's output. The Consolidated Midway one million of the Lakeview has broken loose with a flow estimated as high as 10,000 barrels an hour. The Mex has been turned and is pouring forth 4000 barrels an hour. The Pioneer Midway is gushing 3000 barrels every 24 hours. The Midway Northern has struck a big flow of which no authentic estimate have yet been received. The American Petroleum has brought in a large gusher of 10,000 barrels a day in Coalinga. The Coalinga National's new well is yielding 300 barrels. Palmer No. 2 in the Cat canyon field is again gushing at a speed of 1800 barrels.

This is a good sized increase in the daily production and with it all the talk of new continues in undiminished eruption. The new strikes near by appear to have no appreciable effect upon this monster of the field.

The most sensational of the new performers is the Consolidated Midway. Advices from Bakersfield bring a remarkable tale of this wells activity. It is probable that there has been an exaggeration of its capabilities.

The dispatch from the fields states that the well which came in June 27 was given its head last Friday and proceeded to fill to one-third its capacity, a 30,000 barrel sump hole in one hour. The standard of measurement was necessarily indefinite so the exact flow will not be known until an accurate test is made. It is said that the Consolidated Midway is under such control that it can be handled at will. It is located just a mile to the east of the Lakeview.

According to the California Oil World the Maxwell has been flowing again from 3500 to 4000 barrels a day. The work of installing a Texas strainer, said this same authority, was successfully done, the strainer being driven into the sand with a rotary drill. The flow is steady and the gas under perfect control, a blowout preventer having been used.

The Palmer No. 2 was sanded up for two weeks but has cleared itself and at last reports was said to be yielding 1800 barrels daily.

There was nearly 2,000,000 pounds of fruit in the cars which were sent on their way with 2,0 tons of ice.

Curtiss Drops Oranges As Bombs in "Battle"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 13.—Glenn H. Curtiss yesterday tossed oranges as missile bombs within three feet of the decks of the yacht John R. Maxwell, used in place of a battleship during the sham battle arranged to demonstrate the utility of the aeroplane in coast defense.

The mock bombs were dropped from a height of about 300 feet and Curtiss purposely failed to strike the yacht for fear of injuring the officials and passengers on her decks.

Visiting experts agreed that experiments showed that a fleet of aeroplanes armed with bombs could wreck any warship before guns could be trained on them.

Curtiss was flying about 5 miles on Lou when he dropped the bombs and officials on the deck of the yacht declared that he was within a certain distance for life he less than half a mile.

Dr. Hyde spends most of his day reading and lends books to his fellow prisoners.

S.S.S. A BLOOD MEDICINE FOR YOUNG OR OLD

We all understand the principle of bodily nourishment—how the blood, loaded with nutritive properties, circulates through the system and constantly supplies the need of every muscle, nerve, bone and tissue. The majority of human ailments are caused by impure blood, because when the body is supplied with weak, polluted blood the system is deprived of its necessary strength and disease-resisting powers. Children do not develop perfectly, nor are they strong and robust unless the blood is pure and strong, while old people are afflicted with rheumatism, and other attendant troubles of old age, because of a weakened circulation. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, strengthening, cleansing roots and herbs, the purest and best blood medicine for young and old. It cures every ailment which comes from impure or diseased blood, ones up and regulates every part of the system and creates an abundant supply of nourishment with which to build up the blood. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Malaria, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

TUTOR'S REMOVAL CAUSE OF PROTEST

The Elmhurst Board of Trade Wants Miss Belle Harlan Reappointed to School.

ELMHURST July 13 — That the residents of the district annexed to Oakland recently are not losing sight of the consideration promised by the city officials in the event that they would throw in their lot with the city of Oakland was the statement made Monday night at a meeting of the Elmhurst Board of Trade when a protest was made against the action of Superintendent of Schools J W McClymonds and the Oakland Board of Education in dropping Miss Belle Harlan from the roll of teachers in the district

PROMISE IS ALLEGED

According to the statements of the members of the board of trade Miss Harlan while a prospective cherry farming in the Elmhurst district was promised that she would retain her position after Elmhurst should be annexed to Oakland This is the promise credited to Superintendent McClymonds and other officials of the school system who are said to have made the agreement Promise that all teachers would be retained providing that their work was satisfactory The members of the Board of Trade claim that criticism that is directed at Miss Harlan is wholly unjust to the action of the school authorities in accepting the teacher as taken without any consideration of the ability shown by Miss Harlan

WANT WOMAN REAPPOINTED

The members of the organization decided to open in their power to have Miss Harlan reinstated and to open a campaign to bring this about Philip Reilly was appointed a committee to bring the matter to the attention of the school authorities

The special committee further declared that the lives of the first and Fourth streets were endangered in resolutions passed by the Elmhurst Board of Trade and a committee was appointed to Melrose police to bring the matter to the attention of the Special Police

TO RAISE NO BAN ON THE ELECTION

Berkeley Council Will Allow the Annexation Question to Be Settled at Polls.

BERKELEY July 13—No legal objections will be made to the proposed annexation election by the local City Council according to a statement given out yesterday by Mayor Beideck The statement was made following the serving of a notice by the Oakland council to the effect that the election will be called for Thursday September 1

The date on which the Oakland council intends to call the election is said to be such as to permit of the students and instructors of the University and various schools in this city who have returned from their vacations and will be ready to go to the polls on the last

A number of the residents of this city have stated that we intend to oppose legal objections and so prevent the election While it is probable that the council could raise objections which would be sustained by law I do not believe we will take any such steps I for one would much rather see the question settled and over with I know that there is no question but that it will be overwhelmingly defeated and I is the only way by which the people of Oakland will ever realize that we are not anxious to join them under one government

If we should block the election there are many who would say that we did so simply because we feared that we might lose Moreover the question would remain in an unsettled condition as at present We will do nothing to interfere with the election in Oakland and will call on for this city

THREATENS LIFE OF JUDGE QUINN

Angry Cook Goes on Rampage in Courtroom Because of Collectors.

While Judge Frederick W Quinn of Alameda was busily engaged in transacting the duties of Justice of the Peace in his room in Justice Quinn's court yesterday afternoon he was disturbed by a cook who had called to ask him to replevin furniture he had purchased through installments from the Jacobs Furniture Company which efforts were just removing the furniture

Pursuing the path of the office Judge Quinn refused to sign a commission that it took the united efforts of Fannie Dean Constable Frank Ryan as well as other officers to eject the irate cook from the office Quinn's bluff as he called it was of no avail and he had to take the law into his own hands

It required more than one policeman and deputy sheriff to eject the cook and it was only after a long struggle that the cook was finally ejected from the office by various officers and deputies on duty

Talks ON Teeth
—BY—
REX DENTAL CO.
(INCORPORATED)

Wanted—
First-Class Dentistry

The most expensive thing in the world is poor dentistry An ignorant dentist can do more harm in one hour than all the good dentists in the land can repair in a lifetime

The trouble is that when the harm is done or when teeth are gone they are gone forever There is no such thing as repairing the damage or feeling sorry or trying all over again

Dentistry must be done well in the beginning

The great specialty of this company is known as the Alveolar Method (supplying missing teeth without the aid of plates)

In most every instance we get the desperate cases We are the court of last resort

In a majority of cases we are able to restore a full set of upper or lower teeth when there are but two teeth left in either jaw to work from

Suppose we were to bungle such work When we put this work in the mouth it is in to stay The Alveolar teeth are as solid as a rock otherwise they would not work

Is not ours a dental office that calls for first class dentistry?

Assuredly Yes

Our business has grown from one office to where at the present time we have magnificently appointed offices in Los Angeles San Francisco Sacramento Oakland and Fresno and more in prospect in other cities

Did this great dental business come by accident or through giving first-class dentistry to those who trusted themselves to the care of our specialist?

Certainly the latter Read the following letter which bears out all we have said before

SELBY CAL
June 28 1910

The Dental Co Oakland Cal

Dear Sirs In reply to yours of the 27th inst will state that the work you performed for us on every way satisfactory in every case my wife referred old ones so desire to have work I have previously had in your office there is no comparison between it and the splendid work performed by you

Yours respectfully
MRS T S DAVENPORT
Selby Cal

We do not ask our readers to take our unsupported testimony for the work we do

Every operation in all of our offices is specialist will perform will be done in a quicker and with more comfort to you than you have ever experienced before in any dentist's office

We invite you to call and allow our examining dentist to look your teeth over Do not get the idea that by coming you may be some work done We cannot tell you what we can do for you until the examination is made Then it rests entirely with you as to whether or no you will employ us

The Alveolar Method you cannot obtain elsewhere We own it

There is no other plan of restoring missing teeth without plates or ordinary (painful) bridge work but the Alveolar Method

It is wonderful The next best thing to growing a new set of natural teeth

If you cannot come to see us at this time send for Alveolar Dentistry our illustrated book which tells all about the new method

We send it free

Put by all means come and see us if you are near enough

That is the best plan

MARSHAL SEEKS POETICAL CRITIC

O for a marshal with open eyes
Who would not sleep a snuding and try to look wise
Who would be on the job when an hour a day,
And just make a bluff at earning his pay

O to see just one burglar caught
Of those who escape and are not even sought
By the man we pay to guard the town
Will we won't have anything left if this keeps up

The Muse balked on the last line but the anonymous author made clear his meaning to the residents of San Leandro who are today laughing at City Marshal Geisenhofer, who is diligently seeking the author

The jingle was written in a disguised hand and placed at the door of the office of City Marshal Geisenhofer Monday night to greet him if he should happen to appear at his office that day Friends saw it at an early hour and removed the offending 'poetry but not before it had been passed from mouth to mouth

HEARS OF OUTRAGE.

When Marshal Geisenhofer finally appeared on the shaded thoroughfare of the City of Cherries he was greeted with mysterious smiles the meaning of which he could not understand until a kind friend told him of the author who was so indignant over the alleged negligence of Geisenhofer that he captured the Muse to voice his sentiments

The long series of burglaries in San Leandro with but comparatively few arrests are thought to be responsible for the criticism many of the residents asserting that little or no effort is being made to apprehend the thieves who are working in the district

Geisenhofer said yesterday that he would ask the trustees of San Leandro to pass an ordinance making it a penitentiary offence to write rhymes, jingles or literature of any nature

Husband Beat Her Up, But She Pleads for Him

KANSAS CITY—I want to forgive him. He is my husband.

Mrs. Oliva Boroto appeared before the board of public welfare to ask for a parole for her husband. Six months ago she came to America to marry him. The marriage had been arranged by her parents in 1907 when Boroto sailed from Naples for America. He was a handsome man and his letters back to Italy to 1 of great wealth he was making in America.

The girl had visions of a palace and servants as she was coming over on the steamer. When she arrived in Kansas City she found Boroto sharing his little house at 914 Pacific street with others. After they were married he beat her. One night he chased her out of the house with an ax and threatened to kill her. The next morning he was fined $10 in the South Side Municipal Court. Usually when a Italian is fined his friends help him pay it, but in this case even his relatives refused to help him.

Pablo Rondizzo, a Italian and a nephew of Peter, took Mrs. Boroto to his home to live with his family. She inquired of Mrs. Rondizzo if and that there was a home for girls. Through an interpreter she told the latter how she had waited five years to marry Boroto and pleaded for a home for herself. She said that she knew the latter would beat her, but was because they were cruel to him and he was kind to her. She said that when Boroto was arrested she was sick and could not help him. She said that she knew Boroto would not beat her if he were not drunk. She said that she knew that she loved him.

The board voted to parole Boroto. He will be released in the custody of A. Haible, secretary of the board, who gives him instructions on the American way of living. If he will live up to these instructions he will be released in the fall. If he fails to treat his wife as a husband should he will be sent back to prison.

MONROE DOCTRINE OF UNITED STATES

The so called Monroe doctrine had its origin in a declaration contained in the seventh annual message of President James Monroe, sent to Congress December 2, 1823. It was the practical formulation of the sentiment that the two Americas were exclusively reserved for Americans and that interference by European nations in the affairs of American republics would not be tolerated. It had already become a fixed principle in the neutral policy of the country that the United States would not interfere in European politics. This policy was held to include the corollary that Europe should not meddle in American politics either in North or South America. President Monroe's declaration against European interference was brought out by the rumored intervention of the Holy Alliance to aid Spain in the reconquest of its American colonies. Monroe rejected such a policy entered into by the continental powers as a menace to the peace and safety of the United States and in his message to Congress he declared that we would not view any intervention for the purpose of oppressing them (the Spanish American republics) or controlling in any manner their destiny by any European power in any light other than as a manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States.

This declaration and England's hostility to the projected inference of the Holy Alliance in favor of Spain prevented any action being taken.

The Monroe doctrine was not again invoked until President Cleveland intervened in the Orinoco boundary quarrel between Great Britain and Venezuela and forced the submission of their differences to arbitration.

RUMORS OF BIG BASEBALL WAR FLYING BACK EAST

WILLIS' PITCHING WINS OPENING GAME OF BEAVER SERIES

Senators Pound Browning's Curves for Fifteen Hits and Eight Runs

SENATORS SWAT SEALS' SLABSTERS ALL OVER LOT

Browning and Stewart Get Theirs While Jimmy Wahlen Pitches Excellent Game of Baseball

By BERT LOWRY.

CAN it be possible that those Senators have come to life and are going to get into this Coast League pennant race themselves? Yesterday they kept up their spurt and gave two of Danny Long's star slabsters an awful drubbing, winning by the score of 8 to 5. Commenting on what the men from Sacramento did during the day would fill a big book. First they slugged the ball to all corners of the lot. They ran bases in a manner, at least Perry, Shinn and Van Buren did, that would have put Ty Cobb to shame, and they fielded in a style that was ace high in nearly every instance.

"Brownie" Browning, one time of Texas, then of San Francisco, started the hurling for the Seals, and what a lacing he did get. Ten hits and six big runs in seven innings was the sum total of the Senators' work with the bat and on the bases. Then Mr. Stewart, who came to the rescue, was found for nearly half that amount of runs and half as many hits in the two innings he stood on the firing line. For the other fellows it was Jimmy Whalen hurling, and this old boy was there with the bells on his fingers and the rings on his toes making the Seals look like a lot of bushers before his shoots and slants. Sure the Seals got six hits and four runs in the first three innings, but wait until you hear how they got 'em. After that Jimmy was as tight as wifey is with the dole-out after payday.

PLENTY OF RUNS IN OPENING INNIGS.

Shinn started the fray for the Senators and right off the reel began the thumping of Brownie, for the youngster poked a pippin into left. Burns laid down a sacrifice and Shinn reached second. In an attempt to steal third he was out. Perry flew out to Bodie, for the Seals, after Madden had gone out Danzig to Whalen and Mohler had been called Shinn to Danzig. Vitt was ticketed to first. Along comes Tommy Tennant picks out that hole Danny Long discovered in the right field, and gets a homer, two runs.

Sacramento rang the bell once in the second and three times in the third. Danzig made the single run when he reached first on Tennant's awful bobble of his hit, went to second on a sacrifice, to third on an out and to the plate on the daisy cutter Boardman hit to center. In the third Browning got it good and plenty. Whalen opened the round with a single to center. Shinn's safety put him at second and they both moved up a base when Browning made a bad peg to third of Burn's bunt. Perry slammed one at Tennant but Tommy made a quick pick-up of the ball and toss to the plate, getting Whalen. There were the bases jammed with big "Bale" Danzig at the bat and the poke he gave the ball made Mohler turn sick. On a line it went toward the flag pole and while Madden and Bodie were bringing it back to Browning the men on the bases were digging for home, all scoring.

SEALS GET TWO MORE TALLIES.

San Francisco got to Jimmy in their half and every rooter was happy for those two male the score. Mohler got safely to first base when Burns booted his poke. When Vitt hit the fence for two bases Mohler reached third. Tennant was shy this time and was an easy out first base. Bodie hit a bounder that got by Burns and Shinn and the two base runners scored. Melchoir hit to right sending Bodie to third and then though poor base running Fing was caught at the plate trying to score on Berry's short poke into left field. Two runs.

After this the hitting and scoring of runs ceased for a few innings, or until the seventh, when the Senators grabbed two and the Seals one. Shinn opened the round with a single to center and took second on a pretty bunt by Burns. Perry came through with a single and Shinn was over the plate. "Old Hank" then stole second and came right on to the plate by some speedy pedal work, when Danzig slammed one over Mohler's head into right center. Van Buren went out Browning to Tennant. Mohler too got of Briggs. For the Seals Madden walked and went to second, when Mohle also walked. Vitt tried to beat out a bunt but failed, but did send his men up a peg. Tommy Tennant came along with a long fly into right center and Madden made the play.

SENATORS HAMMER STEWART, TOO.

At the conclusion of that thumping in the seventh Browning was told to pack his clothes and go, and "Texas" Stewart came into the limelight to get his. Two bingles in the eighth failed to register, but three and a pass in the ninth and, we might add, some childish baseball by Berry gave the Senators two more runs. Perry opened the final round by going to first because Berry tried to hold his bat so as to prevent the outfielder hitting the ball. While Perry was at first Berry threw there to catch him napping, and the peg went into right field. Perry getting to second. Danzig laid down a bunt that put him at third and he came home when Van Burnen upset the Seals' infield with the hit and run sign. Van went to second on a single by Biggs and tagged the plate when Berry made another one of his high and lofty throws to catch Briggs' stealing second. There was a little more, but it didn't figure in the score so we'll write finis. The score:

Sidelights of the Game

Senators win opening game.

Browning gets an awful bumping.

Victors play swell baseball throughout game.

"Old Hank" Perry was a demon on the bases and at the bat.

Shinn gathered four clean hits out of five times up.

Danzig double was to the flagpole and scored three of the runs.

Mickey La Longe took five cracks at the ball and landed safely thrice.

Burns didn't get a bingle, but he laid down two pretty sacrifice hits.

Van Buren was lame, still he came clear from second to the plate on a single to right.

Stewart relieved Browning in the eighth, but got as much of a slamming as did Brownie.

Whalen landed one safe in the first time up and then fanned on the next four trips to the bat.

Boardman didn't have many chances at third, but all those were tough ones and he handled them cleverly.

Happy Hogan and his band watched the game from the grand stand and rooted for the Senators.

Briggs did not break into the hit column until the ninth inning, but it was a run-producer at that.

Madden was still weak with the big stick while he was sadly out of place in the center garden.

Oscar Vitt played great ball around third base and landed on one good for two bases in the third inning.

Tennant found the hole in the screen, made famous by Danny Long, and poked one through it in the opening frame.

Danzig ran after one Madden started for right field and got the ball to Whalen who covered first before Madden got here.

Bodie got a double and a single, but the two bagger was a flukey one. Burns misjudging a high fly in the opening rounds.

Yesterday Briggs of the Senators Tried to make third base, and was well on his way when discovered. A quick throw to Vitt though put him out, the camera catching Briggs just as he made a desperate endeavor to beat Vitt to the base.

It is the man quick of thought and action that makes baseball what it is—the greatest of all outdoor athletics.

WILLIS PITCHES GREAT BALL AND OAKS GATHER

Wolverton's Men Play Fine Ball and McCredie's Men Receive Coat of Whitewash

PORTLAND, July 13.—Oakland came back to their own in the opening game of their series with the Beavers here yesterday and gave Walter McCredie's men a trimming. The game was a somewhat tiresome one at that and brought no joy to the local fans for the reason that the defeat put them in second place. It was a cheering victory for the Oaks though, for they are now tied with the Angels for third place in the pennant race.

Ralph Willis, who used to hail for Danny Long until he decided to pull away from the Grounders occupied the hill for the visitors and left a decided impression that he is far from being all in, out and down. Try as the Beavers would, they could not find a safe spot in the outfield for a hit and the best they got was two, one of these in the seventh and another in the eighth. Willis had nice control also and issued but one pass but four men getting on the bags, the two on hits, one on the pass and another on a fielder's choice. Behind Willis the men played big league ball and no Oakland fan can find fault with the way they performed in the field yesterday.

Bill Krapp, for the Beavers, pitched excellent ball, allowing but a single an inning until the seventh, at which point he blew and tossed away his game.

Swander opened the inning with a two-bagger and Wolverton and Maggart struck out. Cameron and Carroll then gave passes, filling the bases. With two and two on Cutshaw, Krapp cut a curve along the outer corner. Cutshaw went out after it and everybody thought the inning was over. In spite of Cutshaw's swing, Finney ruled that it was a ball and on the next delivery Krapp forced Swander home. Wares then drew a walk, forcing Cameron home.

Willis pitched a superb game, allowing but two hits and one base on balls. He was accorded perfect support.

Berry held Perry's bat in the ninth and the umpire, who was Van Haltren, gave the batter first base. He was correct in his ruling.

San Francisco has slipped out of the heavy-hitting class and is again the hitless wonders.

Browning got away with a hit in the second round and Stewart made his in the final round.

Every man in the press box saw Berry's little side play in the ninth and wondered why Van didn't call him for it before he did.

Wiseacres Finds Why Wagner Isn't Hitting

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 13.—Wiseacres in Fondu claim to have found the reason for Hans Wagner's batting slump and incidentally the cause of that 15 to 0 game with Philadelphia. On that day a garage was attached by a constable here and the building with its contents was ordered sold for debt. In the garage was the big shortstop's automobile. The day of that awful game, Monday, Hans could not get his automobile, hence, the wiseacres say, the great catastrophe.

Yesterday Wagner, armed with a writ of replevin and backed up with $1000 bonds to cover costs and damages in case of suit, charged upon the constable who delivered the automobile with many apologies.

Trainmen	11	3	.846
Coast	5	3	.500
Westerns	4	8	.333
General Office	4	8	.308
San Jose	2	8	.286

After a rest of two weeks the Coast and General Office boys hooked up in the morning at the Melrose ground, the latter tasting defeat to the tune of 12 to 7, after having the game sewed up in the sixth inning at 6 to 2. Both teams were going good until Newton injured his throwing arm, when Bowden taking his place, could do nothing with the Coasters.

Batteries—General Office, Newton, Bowden and Ditt. Coast, Fair and Higgins.

In the after-luncheon affair the fans were treated to an exciting twelve-inning game when the Trainmen succeeded in making it eight straight by defeating the Westerns by the score of 5 to 4. The features of the game were the terrific home-run clout by Wells in the ninth, tieing the score, and the timely hitting of Hagedorn, whose hit in the twelfth scored Carter from second, after he had hit safely and stole second. Both Heidman and Tuttle pitched nice ball, with Tuttle having the edge, ably backed up by the work of Carter and the infield. Smith played his usual brilliant game at third, his catch of a foul fly bordering on the sensational, while Daley and Gordon for the Westerns robbed the Trainmen of many a hit by their fast work in the field.

Batteries — Westerns, Heidman and Voltan; Trainmen, Tuttle and Carter.

The score by innings:

Westerns .....0 0 1 2 1 0 0 0 0 0—4
Trainmen .....0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 2 0 1—5

Next Sunday the Trainmen will clash with the Coast boys in the morning, while the General Office, who have an open date, will hook up with some outside team in the afternoon, both games at the Melrose grounds. The Westerns will journey to San Jose and try to regain their laurels at the expense of the tailenders.

Melchoir broke back into the game, playing right field, besides getting one of the bingles.

Bodie got sleepy in the third and tried to steal home after the chance was gone. He was out a mile.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Yesterday's game between the Yanks and the white Sox was all Hans Wolter. With one man on in the fifth, Wolter tripled and sent him home, tying the score. In the seventh Warhop was soaked in the ribs and went home on Wolter's second triple. This ended the scoring, with the Yanks on the right end of a 4 to 3 score. Score:

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—The Athletics took the Tigers into camp again yesterday. Coombs was well supported, but the Tigers managed to bunch hits on him three times. Moriarity getting three hot singles.

CINCINNATI, July 13.—Thirteen innings with the only scoring done in the last half of the final inning by the Reds, is the story of yesterday's game in Cincinnati. Barger weakened a bit in that inning, allowing the single score by Paskert. Gaspar pitched eleven innings for the Reds and held his men admirably. Christy Mathewson is having trouble with his left wrist. He says he doesn't remember having hurt it in any way, but it is stiff and painful. Although it doesn't affect his pitching, it does his batting.

Ed Abbaticchio, who was given his ten days' notice of release by Pittsburg on June 19, will not report to Boston, which club claimed him, but will quit the game to take charge of his hotel at Latrobe, Pa.

Mohler protested the ruling sending Perry to first, but he hasn't a leg to stand on.

Vitt had been passed, so it made a couple for the Seals that were easy picking.

GOSSIP OF THE PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Oaks Play Fine Ball Up North; Berry Gets Caught at Time-worn Trick.

When it comes down to the real fine points of baseball rules Van Haltren is certainly there with the goods. Yesterday Claude Berry of the Seals pulled off that old trick of holding a player's club when he is about to strike at the ball. The act took place in the ninth inning with Perry of the Senators at the bat and Van immediately gave the outfielder his base. Berry let out a yell and Mohler ran up to the press box red-eyed and hot-foot with a protest against the renderings of the umpire. An investment of ten cents in either a Reach or a Spalding guide would show both Berry and Mohler that they haven't a leg to stand on and when both have thought the matter over the chances are that they will withdraw that protest.

Of course there might be a chance of argument if Van hadn't seen the act, but he saw it and every member of the press stand saw the trick. This is an old game with many catchers and some of them do it in a manner that passes detection. Lohman of the Oakland team of years ago and Billy Hammond were adept students of this trick, but Berry—well Berry is a busher at it.

* * *

After the little backstop had been shown up by the ump, he lost his nerve and made a couple of wild throws that helped the Senators on the way to the plate. While Perry was at first, after being sent there by Van, Berry cut loose with one and Perry went to second before Melchoir in right could retrieve the ball. Again Berry hurled the ball to catch Briggs and the throw went to the outfield. It was a nasty display of temper and didn't get the backstop anything.

* * *

Outfielder Perry of the Senators gave an exhibition of how to hit the bases in the third inning and came a-way from first to the plate when Danzig tore that two bagger into left center. It was a mighty clever piece of foot work on the part of Perry and he got a loud hand for his work. Again in the seventh Perry showed his speed when he singled, stole second and came all the way to the plate on a short single to the field.

* * *

Ralph Willis did the slab duties up north for the Oaks yesterday and the ex-Seal covered himself with glory. Two line bingles and a pass down to first base was all the Beavers could gather off the delivery of the blonde pitcher. Willis has showed steady improvement in his box work since joining the locals and should prove a valuable man to the club if he keeps up the gait he has set so far.

* * *

Jimmy Shinn was there with the big stick and landed on the pellet safe every time he went to the bat but once. At that his bingles were good and timely and helped the Senators run up that large-sized score.

* * *

It did not look like real baseball to leave Browning in the box when the man was getting thumped at all stages of the game, still Mohler is running the team, not us. Since Browning has been on the coast he has received his early and often, and it looks as if the youngster is entitled to a good long rest. Such pitching as he has delivered in the last four times in the box won't win many games for the Seals.

* * *

The locals have started off well in Portland and it is hoped that they will keep up their good work. For a pitcher to hold a team to a couple of singles as Willis did is mighty clever work and for the team behind him to play as the Oaks did is just as clever. Wolve too has a good team and the fans know that, therefore let's get in a boost for the Oaks to come back from Portland with the long end of the series.

* * *

Harry Wolters, formerly of the San Jose team, was in the spotlight yesterday, scoring two three-baggers with the big stick for the New York Americans. These two wallops helped the Highlanders gather the game.

* * *

Connie Mack's Athletics gave the Tigers another trimming yesterday and it looks very much as if Hugh Jennings' hired men are all in, out and down as far as the pennant of the American league is concerned.

* * *

Some time ago we read where Walter McCredie had retired from baseball for all times and the Judge told how he was through with a great big T. Yesterday found "Mac" back in harness and when the time came he bursted into the limelight like a veteran.

* * *

For some reason Tommy Sheehan was not in the Portland line-up yesterday. Perhaps the journey up on the train left Tommy a little tired and then again Hetling is playing a swell game of ball at third for the Beavers.

* * *

Van Buren and Briggs pulled off a nice piece of hit-and-run play in the ninth inning and by so doing upset the Seals' field to a laughing point. Briggs had got as far as third when Van tipped his hand, and when the lightfielder started for the plate Van tapped the ball between the pitcher and first base. The play came so sudden and was so neatly executed that no one ran over to cover first base.

RUMORS OF WAR IN BASEBALL CIRCLES

It Is Said That the Tigers Will Invade the Stronghold of the Pirates.

PITTSBURG, July 13.—According to rumors persistently circulated in baseball and real estate circles for the last two days a baseball war threatens Pittsburg. It is said that a deal is on for the sale of Luna Park to a syndicate of baseball magnates who contemplate placing a team in the city in opposition to the Pirates.

The name of Ban Johnson, president of the American League, has been connected with the rumored deal. John A. Sharp, who has charge of the property, yesterday admitted that negotiations were in progress for the sale.

Reports have been extensively circulated that Ban Johnson wanted to transfer the champion Detroit Tigers to another city because of the failure of Detroit to properly support a champion team.

HANS WAGNER INSURGENT?

PITTSBURG, July 13.—An evening paper says that Hans Wagner, once worshiped by all fandom as its foremost idol, is dissatisfied with his berth as a member of the Pirates and has created dissensions in the ranks of the team. It charges that the miserable showing of the champions to this cause and says:

"Although Wagner draws a salary of $10,000 a year and as a player under contract is supposed to play as directed by the manager of the team, it is no secret that time and again Honus has disobeyed instructions and has been performing in a don't care and listless fashion.

"Last Saturday in the game with the Phillies Wagner went into Fred Clarke's territory and caught a ball which Clarke had called he would take. A painful collision was averted only by Clarke's agility in turning aside in the nick of time. Wagner's utter disregard of discipline has disgusted George Gibson and other leading members of the team and affected their work.

BASEBALL TRADE.

CINCINNATI, July 13.—Perhaps the biggest trade of the year in baseball is to be announced here today when the Boston National team comes to play Cincinnati a series of four games. It will take from Cincinnati Third Baseman Lobert, who is considered by many one of the best infielders of the league, and will bring to Cincinnati Pitcher Cliff Curtis and Shortstop Sweeney of Boston. This plan has received the official recommendation of President Herrmann, who is now at Detroit.

LYNCH DECIDES PROTESTS.

NEW YORK, July 13.—President Lynch of the National League, in a decision handed down yesterday, declares against the New York club in the matter of a protested game with Boston July 7, won by the latter, 5 to 2.

Before the game a time limit of 6.25 had been set to enable the Boston players to catch a train. The score at the end of the seventh inning stood 5 to 2 in Boston's favor. In the first half of the eighth New York made six runs, which were not counted because Boston's half of the inning was not finished before the time limit expired.

Brooklyn loses in a decision handed down by Mr. Lynch covering a protest of the game June 30, won by New York, 2 to 0. Brooklyn claimed that a hit by McEnech with a man on base went into the stand and entitled him to a home run, which would have tied the score. President Lynch holds that the ball hit the outside of the upper tier of boxes and bounded back into the playing field. Under the circumstances the baseman was not entitled to a home run, and the game stands.

One of the quickest base ball deals on record was pulled off at Minneapolis a few afternoons ago, by which Claude Rossman was transferred from the Columbus team to the Minneapolis Club. Rossman went to the ball park wearing a Columbus uniform, but changed it for the white of the home team in time to get into the game some minutes later.

Doolan is the only ball player extant who can make an accurate throw while standing on his head, but last Saturday he threw one wide while in that unique position.

WOODMAN HAS NOT YET RECEIVED FORFEIT FROM GRANEY

Jim Griffin Wants to Match Abe Attell With Frankie Burns

JOE WOODMAN WANTS TO SEE THAT FORFEIT MONEY

'Referee' Graney Refuses to Pay Over What Rightfully Belongs to Langford's Manager

By EDDIE SMITH.

IN the world of sport the one thing that every true sporting man holds above all other things is his word. You have often heard people say: "That man's word is better than most men's bond." With the sporting man that reputation is the highest honor one can have bestowed on him, and every honorable sport strives to attain it. This does not mean that the truth is not handled rather carelessly among sporting people in their every day life, for this would be the wrong idea, the sporting man will tell an untruth with just as much ease and grace as the long-haired villain who belongs to the anti everything society that objects to all things that he does not believe in.

When the sporting man gives his word to another in a sport deal, however, then his honor is at stake, and to break that word is an unpardonable sin and punishable alike with the welcher with banishment from the ranks of honorable sports. Ask one hundred merchants of any line city what class of men they would rather have owe them money and a great percentage of them will answer the sporting men. Sporting men have been proud of this fact and have tried in every way to keep up the good name of the American sport. Try as they will, however, every once in a while some petty sporting man runs amuck and puts a disgrace on the name of sport for the sake of a few hundred dollars.

Just now in San Francisco, Joe Woodman and Bob Deady, managers respectively of Sam Langford and Al Kaufman, are trying to get a forfeit settlement from Graney who has broken and who if he continues to refuse to pay will forever break every honor bond that a sporting man can have. Here is the story.

Louis Blot conceived the idea of matching Sam Langford and Al Kaufman to open his new open-air arena in San Francisco. Blot accordingly telegraphed to the managers of the fighters and had his agent, Billy McCarney, also go after them. The result was that Blot secured the match. When the men met to sign the final articles of agreement Eddie Graney was selected as a stakeholder and each of the managers put up $1000 with Graney and Blot was supposed to put up a like amount. Graney was then selected referee. The fighters had laid out money coming to the coast and had contracted considerable expense at their training camps when Governor Gillett declared against the Jeffries-Johnson fight and also the Langford-Kaufman match.

FORCED TO CALL OFF BOUT

The Metropolitan Club was then forced to call off the scrap and every cent the managers were entitled to the forfeit money of the club. The forfeit that Graney put up by the club was placed in the hands of Graney and a guarantee that they would stage the contest if the money of the fighters was again put up. Everything went smooth for a while with Woodman and Deady as the fistic representatives of the Langford and Kaufman camps. Then Graney refused to pay over the money that he had in his possession. He claimed that he would have had it Gillett had not put his foot down on the old game for fear the pugilists will realize that they had better make hay while the sun shines.

JEFFRIES IS STILL REMEMBERED BY FANS

Is Well Received on Streets of Los Angeles by Southern Friends.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Jim Jeffries came downtown yesterday for the first time since his return from his disastrous trip to Reno. Great crowds followed the deposed king about the streets, and still a waiting crush when Jeffries would disappear inside a shop.

Many arrived on the Spring street car at Hollcock. He kept to the little office where the curious throng could only occasional glimpse of him. Such a reception was opened and closed the fact that he was under the care of his own establishment again. It was enough to keep the curious at a distance, with only occasional glimpses of the big fighter.

Jeffries is talking fight these days. A visiting card in big type is all that appears in his mind right now.

WORK FOR SUCCESS OF ANNEXATION ELECTION

Committees to Start Publicity Campaign Among Cities On This Side.

BERKELEY COUNCIL AGREES TO VOTING

The Pro-Consolidation Cause Growing, Where Strong Opposition Developed.

The joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Exchange on a consolidated city and county for the east bay cities have arranged with the Berkeley consolidation committee for active co operation in obtaining the success of the consolidation election which has been set for September 13. The Berkeley authorities have acquiesced in the holding of the election City Attorney Stringham having abandoned the intention to oppose it.

The joint committee of the two Oakland commercial bodies consist of the following:

Chamber of Commerce—Geo C Pardee, I H Clay, R A Leet, W E Gibson, C M Wood and H C Capwell.

Merchants Exchange—A. Jonas, J F W Sohst, Wilber Walker, J C Downey, A. H Schuetor and Theo Gier.

The officers of the committee are A Jones, chairman, I H Clay, vice-chairman, R A Leet, treasurer, Wilber Walker, secretary.

TO OPEN HEADQUARTERS.

Headquarters for the consolidation campaign will be opened in Berkeley. No active campaign will be started however until about August 10 when the joint committee will start in earnest. Literature bearing on the advantages to be gained by the consolidation of the two cities will be distributed among the voters of both communities and public meetings will be provided for, at which able speakers will present the benefits to accrue from the union of the two municipalities under one government.

HOPE TO CARRY IT.

The joint committee is very hopeful that consolidation will carry in Berkeley as well as in Oakland on election day as the Berkeley petition filed with the Oakland council contained more than 1800 signatures all of which have since been verified. Moreover it has been learned that a strong sentiment in favor of consolidation has developed in East and North Berkeley where the opposition against it developed. The Oakland vote is foreshadowed as sure to be solid in favor of consolidation.

Payment of Salary For Experts Ordered

The board of public works this morning ordered the payment to three consulting engineers amounts due in remuneration for professional and advisory services rendered in connection with waterfront improvement. M. M. Miller, Otto Von Geldern and Colonel W. H. Heuer are to receive $ 00 each for engineering services rendered in the preparation of plans for waterfront improvement in San Antonio estuary. Colonel Heuer is to receive $ 00 additional for advisory services to the board of public works in preparation of general waterfront plans.

Baby Eats Lye and Is Severely Burned

C Fasano, a three-year-old boy, while playing about the floor at his home at 801½ Grove street today found some lye which it attempted to eat. Suffering from burns about the mouth it was rushed to the Receiving Hospital.

The child's condition was serious on its arrival but the prompt treatment given, placed it out of danger.

Board of Works to Award Contracts

Next Saturday afternoon has been set aside by the Board of Public Works for awarding contracts for fire department equipment. Bids have been received from several firms for hose and fire engines of the latest motor designs. The awarding of those contracts means an outlay of a large amount of money and the special meeting will be held to discuss them.

When it comes to inventing excuses a woman demonstrates superior intellect.

ALLIGATORS THRIVE ON ICE; APPEALING MUTELY FOR MORE

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Alligators in Washington eat ice. They do not, so far as is known, care for it in their native habitat but that may be because they seldom, if ever, see it there. Their fellow sufferers of the last few days, however, adhere to the belief that the saurians' indulgence has been due to their arrival in the torrid East.

Fresh from Florida the young alligators have been regaled in the National Press Club with lumps of ice, that, despoiled of their surrounding beverages, have been left in the bottom of glasses. The first chunk or two filled the 'gators' stomachs with a sense of delightful coolness and their eyes with a look of surprise, but ever since they have been putting Oliver Twist to shame with their dumb appeals for more.

DELEGATES GATHER FOR CONFERENCE OF REPUBLICS

Buenos Ayres to Be Scene of Meeting of Brilliant Diplomatic Array.

GOOD OF NATIONS TO BE THRESHED OUT

Report of Alliance to Counterbalance Policy of United States Denied.

BUENOS AYRES, July 13.—The fourth international conference of American republics was formally opened in this city yesterday and will remain in session for five or six weeks.

The last conference was held in Rio de Janeiro in 1906 and was generally regarded as a success. The present conference plans to adopt a series of resolutions framed for the actual good of the various states on the American continent subject to ratifications by the governments concerned. In some quarters the importance of this gathering is regarded as second only to the great peace conference at The Hague.

DISTINGUISHED DELEGATES.

The members of the American delegation are Henry White, former American ambassador to France; Professor Paul Reinsch, University of Wisconsin; Professor David Kinley, University of Illinois; Professor John Bassett Moore, Columbia University; Professor Bernard Moses, University of California; J. B. Moore, United States Commissioner of Fisheries; Washington J. B. Quintoch, lawyer and journalist of New Orleans; Colonel E. Noch Crowder, assistant judge advocate general of the army; Washington Lewis, Nixon, former naval constructor; New York Professor J. B. Sheppard, Columbia University; George Cabot Ward, former secretary of State of Porto Rico and William T. S. Doyle, assistant chief of the division of Latin American affairs, State department.

DENIES ENTENTE.

The opening address of welcome will be delivered by Roque Saenz Pena, the Argentina minister of foreign affairs. Henry White will reply in behalf of the delegates.

The newspaper La Razon, commenting today on the reports published in europe that Argentine Brazil and Chile are planning the formation of alliance the object of which shall be to counterbalance the policy and effect of the actions of the government of the United States on the American continent declares that the policy of the Northern Republic does not give any reason for such an enmity. An alliance of this kind the paper says would result in no advantage to Argentine on the contrary it would have the effect of placing great restrictions on her commerce.

The International Scientific congress held in connection with the Panamerican gathering, had its first session today in the Colon theater.

Troops Will Move On Warlike Refugees

MADRID, July 13.—Spanish troops are being concentrated in the province of Valencia in preparation to move into Catalonia because of the reported intention of Spanish refugees to cross the French frontier with arms.

NEW LOW RECORD SET FOR COPPER

Prices Rise Vigorously From Opening, But Decline Rapidly.

NEW YORK, July 13.—A vigorous advance in opening prices of stocks today was the consequence of the disproof of the sensational rumors attributed yesterday to the German foreign office.

Gains in all the principal active stocks ran from a fraction to a point and in Pacific reached 2. Northern Pacific 1¾, Rock Island preferred 1½, Reading 1⅝ and St. Paul and Rock Island 1½. Small declines in Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting made the only exceptions to the prevailing tendency.

Prices rose vigorously until a renewal of the weakness of Amalgamated Copper started realizing in all quarters. Contra, Pacific had been carried up 1¾, Rock Island preferred 2½ and Wabash preferred 1¾. Southern Pacific and Louisville and Nashville 1¼ and a great many others a point in Amalgamated Copper steadied prices.

When the reacting set in Amalgamated Copper settled down to 55¾, a new low record price for the year, and the advances in other important stocks were wiped out or largely reduced. Illinois Central and Pressed Steel Car sold a point under yesterday's final price. A rally of a point in Amalgamated Copper steadied prices.

The stock market showed a good undertone in the resistance to the profit taking sales after the opening bulge. The current short covering of that time seemed to exhaust the demand but prices worked back to the highest again before noon. Union Pacific rose 2¾, American Linseed sold on an advance of 3, United Dergoods at a decline of 3 and St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred lost 1¼.

There was no feature to the market between 12 and 1 o'clock, such options being unimportant and the trading normal. Anaconda rose 1¼ and Louisville and Nashville 2.

The market closed strong and quiet. Prices in the final hour ran off sharply on the report that the Interstate Commerce Commission had rejected the suspension of the rail rate increases proposed for August 1. A strong rally followed which placed Union Pacific up, Great Northern Ore Certificates 2¾, Reading and Southern Pacific 2, New York Central 1¾, United States Steel 1⅝, Utah Copper 1¼ and Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting 1. Prices touched the highest of the day on this movement.

PRICES BOOSTED BY WET WEATHER

Spasmodic Advance Occasioned by Reports From the Winter Wheat Belt.

CHICAGO, July 13.—Wet weather in the winter wheat belt occasioned a spasmodic advance in prices here today. The July option in which offerings were especially scant leaped up 1 to 1½c.

Country acceptances of bids for new wheat were reported light and there was a forecast of another prolonged hot wave. Russian crops too were said to be suffering from intense heat. Plentiful selling met the advance and more than overcame the gain.

One reason for the decline was a liberal purchase of flour at Milwaukee. Another bearish factor was that notwithstanding assertions to the contrary late crops in the northwest had been benefited by recent showers. The market opened unchanged to ⅛c higher with September changed 1 to ⅛c up at $1.03⅛@1.03¾. A decline followed to $1.0..⅝.

Possible effects of the hot wave led to a rally but prices fell off again because of general rains in North Dakota. The close was easy with September 1.01⅛c net lower at $1.02⅝.

The corn market was a small affair affected chiefly by wheat. September started 1 cent ⅛c up at 69¼c to 69c and reacted to 69⅛c to 69¼c.

On predictions of a hot wave local traders bulled the market. The close was firm with September 1.07⅜c net higher at 69⅞@69c.

Oats were swayed by other trade. Trade was not large. September at the outset was unchanged to ⅛c higher at 38⅛c to 38c then receded to 38⅝c.

Provisions were scarce at first but packers sold when prices rose and advances were not well maintained. Initial quotations for the September option were unchanged to 5c higher with pork at $21.62½ to $21.65, lard at $11.75 to $11.77½, and ribs at $11.07½.

Wheat—July $1.01⅞, September $1.02⅛. December $1.04¼. May $ 06⅝.

Corn—July 58¾c, September 59¾@60c, December 57⅜@57.c, May 58¾c.

Oats—July 40.c, September 38⅝@38c, December 39⅝c, May 41⅝c.

Pork—July $21.12½, September $22. Lard—July $11.60, September $11.00. October $11.50, November $11.50.

Ribs—July $11.0., September $11.52½, October $11.

Rye—Cash 70@70c.

Barley—Cash 0@0c.

Timothy—September $5.70, October $5.25, March $ 00.

CHICAGO, July 13.—Inter Ocean says: It was said after the close last night that the local and Northwestern shorts who sold wheat Monday had covered and that most of the traders were long at the close. The finish being at the high point. One local professional came in on 60,000 bushels September and was said to be over on the bull side at the last. A number of the big commission houses sold wheat for profits at the finish but it all appeared. Cash people said that the future of the market depends upon the weather and the attitude of the farmer in selling.

Commission men and professionals see a good trading market for the present.

There were scattered rains at a number of points in the Northwest which deceived the crowd into selling wheat at the opening when it was the lowest.

The North Dakota crop report was more favorable. The impending movement of new wheat did not appeal to traders as strongly as it did yesterday when prices were up as the bull Monday when they went down.

It was noticed to that one of the most aggressive traders in the Northwest was very active in distributing a very large amount of sensational crop news yesterday from Minneapolis as well as Winnipeg.

Corn specialists said the advance of 1c per bushel from the low point was due largely to covering by shorts. There was some talk of counting in today's sales as a result of disappointment in the delivery but some of the largest cash handlers said they were getting all the corn they had bought.

HUMANE SOCIETY REPORT FOR JUNE

Much Work Is Accomplished During Month and Patrols Arranged Along Roads.

An excellent showing of work accomplished during the last month was made at the July meeting of the board of directors of the Oakland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of Alameda County. During June, 1261 horses were examined to determine their condition and fitness to work. Among these 39 were found painfully free, 4 had badly galled necks or shoulders, 11 had injured eyes due to flapping blinders, and 3 were working without shoes. Eight broken-down horses were wholly unfit for service were relieved from work; 7 large animals, sick or injured beyond recovery, were humanely destroyed; 2 small animals in similar condition were mercifully destroyed; 27 drivers of horses were warned to give the animals in their charge more humane treatment; 4 calls were made for the officials' ambulance; there were 7 arrests and 4 convictions. Officer Gibson covered 1,041 miles with the motorcycle. For the excessive overdriving of a horse, a man was arrested and fined $25; another paid a fine of $10 for driving a horse with a galled back; still another was fined $10 for working a lame horse, and one man served a term at the public work pile for cruel overdriving of an unfortunate horse which, when brought into town, was so weak and exhausted that it had to be hoisted up in order to get it into its stable.

OVERDRIVING OF HORSES.

Several complaints have reached the society this summer regarding the excessive overdriving of heavy horses, especially those used on Sunday and holidays. It has been reported that such animals have been returned to their stables much the worse for cruel driving and whipping, and with bruises badly damaged due to reckless driving. As a means of relief arrangements were made through the society whereby, upon such days, a mounted patrol should be maintained along those roads and thoroughfares in the suburban districts most frequented by the above class of pleasure seekers.

The experiment has proved most successful. The expense of the extra mounted officer is defrayed by the Berryman, who are much pleased with the results. The mounted patrol service will extend through the summer months at least, and promises to become a permanent feature of the society's work of animal protection in the county. The patrol is under the direction of Officer Osborn, one of the special humane officers in the service of the Oakland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of Alameda County, and he is furnished by the society with a motorcycle, which greatly facilitates his work.

ANTI-CRUELTY LAWS.

The society will purchase a large quantity of the anti-cruelty State laws, which have been arranged in neat booklet form by the State Humane Association of California and sold at cost to encourage their wide distribution, and will distribute same among police and other peace officers in Alameda county.

The Oakland society is one of the most active humane organizations in the country. Its work extends throughout Alameda county, where the condition of the domestic animals has become much improved as a result of its great activity.

THIRD BOY BANDIT TAKEN INTO TOILS

17-Year-Old Youth Denies He Fired Shot That Wounded Victim.

PITTSBURG, July 13. Edward McDonald, aged 17, the third of the boy bandits who held up a street car early Sunday morning and shot Police Lieutenant Sewey Stewart, was captured early this morning in the kitchen of his home in Shelbyville by a policeman in plain clothes who had been watching the house for twenty hours.

McDonough said he had ridden all day in the woods near his home while the police drenched him to the skin and that he crept into the kitchen to hide after night.

While his companions under arrest assert that McDonough fired the shot that wounded the lieutenant, McDonough denies he was on the fender of the car during the robberies and that he had no revolver that would fire work. He said he can be heard the shooter.

It will be held to await the result of the lieutenant's injuries. Stewart is in a hospital and last night it was feared he would die.

CALL OF STAGE LURES HER BACK

Margaret Illington Admits She Prefers the Footlights to Sox.

CHICAGO, July 13.—With the frank admission that the "call of the stage" had proved a stronger attraction than the desire to continue a life of domesticity, Margaret Illington, heavily veiled and dressed in mourning, left Chicago yesterday. The former Mrs. Daniel Frohman was accompanied by her husband, Edward J. Bowes.

"They are on their way to Bowes' home town, Tacoma, Wash., where a new play in which she is to star will open August 26. The death of Miss Illington's father, I. H. Light, of Bloomington, Ill., explained the mourning.

"I am going back to the stage because it attracts me," said the actress, "and because my husband desires me to.

"So I have not altered my domestic ideas again to take up my stage career, my husband will be with me all the time. Were it otherwise I would not do it. You understand it is his play—he is the producer."

When asked the name of the play Mrs. Bowes shook her head.

Dunphy's Sister Is Named His Guardian

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Letters of guardianship over the person and property of James C. Dunphy were granted yesterday to his sister, Jennie C. Dunphy, by Judge Troutt. Since the order was made in August, 1909, for the appointment of a guardian James Dunphy has been the principal figure in a runaway match between Lydia Valencia and a substitute architect said.

A stay on the order for the guardian was made by the attorneys for the Valencia woman appealed to the Appellate Court to have the order dismissed. Attorney Percy Evans, for Dunphy, held that the appeal was void because made before the letters of guardianship were really issued.

Yesterday the appeal to the higher court was dismissed and later the formal presentation of the letters of guardianship was made by the Probate Court. Attorney Evans stated yesterday that Dunphy's sister has at last been appointed guardian over since August, 1909, and that the issuance of the papers ends the guardian suit on a point of law.

Every morning divers are brought to the surface with reports of disappointment as they could find no trace of the purse. Many persons have been searching for the lost purse, but Stewart men, employed from the owner's door.

CALIFORNIA WOMEN HURT IN WRECK

Three Near Death When Heavy Freight Is Struck by Passenger in Utah.

SALT LAKE, July 13. — Mrs. George W. Barry of Napa, Miss F. B. Smith of Santa Ana and Mrs. F. W. Cordray of Port Costa, Cal., were badly shaken up and bruised in a rear end collision on the Rio Grande near Sprinville, 60 miles east of Salt Lake yesterday.

They were passengers on train No. 3. The second section of freight train No. 65 failed to clear a siding and sent a flagman to stop No. 3. The engineer did not see the flagman because the latter stood on the fireman's side upon a curve. The engineer, however, saw his danger in time to apply the air and slacken speed. The passenger train struck the rear end of the freight. The property damage is small.

Colorado and Salt Lake passengers were also slightly injured. The injured Californians were not prevented from continuing their journey to California.
